Foreword

TO CLASSMATES, faculty, alumni, and friends of Ames High, we present with mingled feelings of regret and pleasure, this volume of the 1926 Spirit.

To record phases of high school life has been our privilege. As life is lived, so life is here portrayed.

Each page is an account of your activities; each event a milestone in your life; each Spirit annual a monument to Ames Senior High.

TO MR. BODWELL, Superintendent of Schools, who in the past has devoted his time, energy, and ability to the Ames Public School system, this book is most respectfully dedicated as a token of sincere appreciation.

JACK'S ADVENTURE IN NIGHTMARELAND

With a flop and a groan, Jack Graves turned over for the hundredth time. On the eve of his graduation, he was enjoying a nightmare which proved to be a record of his own and his classmates' High School career.

With an airy, sinking feeling, he found himself wandering in gulflike halls with an apparition of the queerest features and dimensions coming toward him. He faintly distinguished the step of Miss St. Clair and heard in the distance the laughing and talking of Mrs. Maun and Miss McKay, while the eyes of Miss Easter held him immovable.

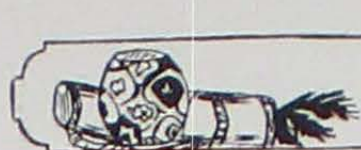

After passing this horror, Jack found himself slipping, sinking, and falling down a class incline. Oh! this was worth all that. For here, he found a dainty Japanese garden in which dainty little Japanese maidens were serving tea. Such rest, such peace! Jack would have liked to have remained here always, but no—he was drawn, as though by a magnet, out into a cavernous hall, filled with shrieking, howling mobs. He felt himself dragged roughly into a damp, semi-dark place crowded with unearthly men and phantastic animals that behaved in a peculiar manner. Staggering up millions of steps, Jack came into a large auditorium, where a joyfully mad crowd was throwing streamers and confetti till he felt quite buried. A silence—and then out came pretty girls dancing and singing and scattering flowers. After this, the sweet dew-scented rainbow garden with little rose girls as waitresses, was a dream indeed. And thus ended the carnival life of the dear old class of '26.

Wandering through the long halls and trying locked doors labelled "Geometry," "Latin," and so forth, Jack turned the knob of one labelled "Auditorium." When it swung open, he saw a vision; dear old Mr. Wygant was calling for the following to please remain after assembly: Robert Spears, Frances Reis, Helen Alm, Gale Allen, Noel Larson, Louis Judisch, Jack Graves, then Dorothy Dunlap and Tom Carberry. Jack grew dreary and when he looked again it seemed as though Mr. Wygant had disappeared and in his place stood Mr. Davis, who asked Doris Erwin, William Knous, and Martha Sloss to please remain. As Mr. Davis faded into the background all the class officers were shaking hands and smiling happily.

An intense drowsy feeling stole over Jack and when again he opened his eyes he had a dreary feeling of being all alone and far away from the crowd. What caused this dreadful feeling? Only a "prep" party of the class of '26. As in a slow motion movie, the equally "slow" parties held in the gym passed in review. This finally dragged to a close and with a feeling of satisfaction, Jack was jostled rudely aside.

The haunting strains of music and the flash of costumed ladies quickened his footsteps and for four times during his dream, he was a part of a jolly laughing crowd who explained that this was a "mixer." But soon these gay times vanished and Jack felt his hair growing white during the terrific thing called "Semester Exams."

Turning once more in the corridor, Jack wandered aimlessly about until he saw a mammoth crowd pushing and shoving, trying to enter a door marked "Athletics." Joining the frantic crowd, Jack finally managed to push through. Upon entering he recognized many of his schoolmates. Among them were Gale Allen, Arthur Ruggles, William Martin, Byron Cory, and Merle Robbins. For hours it seemed they fought, sometimes conquering, sometimes losing to queer people who had a way of springing up to cry, "It is our turn to fight with you." Battling wearily until they could hardly stand, they seemed to have finally overcome all of the enemy. The dead and wounded were lying everywhere. Somewhere he heard a voice dimly saying, "Well, boys, you've played your last game of football and basketball in your High School career." So that's what they had been doing. With a crazy shout, Jack leaped up and ran from the room.

Careening blindly down the hall, he ran up against a horrible monster, a scorching hot monster with clutching hands, who tried to drag him down—drag him into the depths of despair. Feeling its burning hands, Jack found in his terrified glance that it wore an emblem called "Senior Subjects." He seemed to wrestle with this terrible object for hours. Some of the time he was victor, but again the object would have him nearly down. After a long struggle, Jack rose as the conquerer. There lay the monster and Jack, as he walked away, remarked that the old thing was sort of attractive in spite of its ugly features.

Jack heard the strains of beautiful music and he felt himself being drawn irresistibly toward it. He found to his surprise that he was not alone but all of his class were there. A pretty damsel was walking by his side up the aisle of a church where, from the platform, a dignified man was giving to each a long white roll.

Slowly, dreamily, Jack and his classmates passed down the aisle with their diplomas. The music grew fainter and fainter.

Thus ended graduation day.

MELBA ACHESON, '26.

CLASS WILL

We, the Class of 1926, being of sound mind and ornery disposition, do hereby will, devise, and bequeath to those impediments in the pathway of progress, namely, the Juniors, Sophomores, and Faculty, the following, to-wit:

I. To the Class of 1927 we devise and bequeath: (a) All debts incurred by our class; (b) The privilege of bearing the expenses of the annual Junior-Senior banquet; (c) All members of our class that fall by the wayside in their scholastic pursuits.

II. To the Sophomores, we will the ability to successfully (get that word, successfully) sign your own report cards, excuses, and passes.

III. To the Faculty, we leave the memory of the unfailing aid we have always given them in solving the many problems far in excess of the scope of their limited understanding, intelligence, and comprehension.

IV. As individuals, our personal effects, manners, and features, undesirable as they may be, are herewith specifically disposed of into the hands of the following. Clear title is warranted, though satisfaction is not guaranteed.

1. Jack Graves leaves his Clay to be molded into suitable form according to the personal tastes of his enterprising successor.

2. Tony Blomquist and Earl E. Leiderman (Dana Howell) bequeath their free taxi service to Sam Harter and Howard Erwin.

3. Walrus Rynerson leaves the band and orchestra in peace.

4. To all in need of happiness, we will the memory of Mona Shupe, Dorothy Bennett, and Edna Sherman as illustrious examples of girls who can smile.

THE SPIRIT

5. Verna Halbasch and the Speck sisters devise their contented life to those restless.
6. Edna Holsinger and Helen Ruggles bequeath their sparring partnership to Claudine Townsend and Viola Menter.
7. Roddy Fox leaves for Cherokee. (Warning: This is resultant of the duties as Athletic Treasurer.)
8. Ruth Hussong, Roberta Nott, and Elizabeth Wilson bequeath their unuttered thoughts to Gordon Draper.
9. Sam Corey gives Raymond Shipman one of his shoes for a row-boat.
10. Dorothy Pasley wills any superfluous artistic development to John Baldwin.
11. Fern Bappe, Gertrude Gronbech, and Marjorie Packard bequeath their quiet ways to LaVon Nunamaker.
12. Little Allan and his "Star" leave together.
13. Geraldine Frazier does not leave Gwendolyn to anyone, hence they will travel together next year.
14. Alyce Duitch and Blanche Brownfield will their gum-chewing endurance to the debaters for training purposes.
15. Dorothy Hall and Mildred Edwards leave their collegiate friends to Grace Virginia Browning and Ethel Davidson.
16. Merle Robins leaves, Craven for Jewel.
17. Sandy Barr wills his Oxford Bag mouse-trap to Silo Brockman, although we feel they will present a high-water effect on that personage.
18. Ralph Briley and Marion Kuhn leave for the farm, physical wrecks from their scholastic pursuits. We trust that no one will assume such studious positions.
19. Helen Alm and Isabella Murphy bequeath their partnership to Ethel Roll and Lucille Foster.
20. Sara Jane Maroney and Esther Logan will their example of how much thinking can be done by keeping quiet to Roger Martin.
21. Lucille Penfield wills to Frances Martin the honor of being flower girl at the coming ceremony, whilst Soda Bill declares that Audie Erickson can be the best man.
22. Jerry Feroe and Box Welsh will their ability as net stars to Boyd Young and Edward Kilgore.
23. Alyce and Beatrice Erickson leave their school bank accumulations to the library.
24. Viola Clements, Ruth Scoltock, and Lorraine Van Patter will their romances to Beatrice Bradley.
25. Alberta Davis, Ila Woodburn, and Doris Erwin bequeath their G. R. activity to Laura Kooser.
26. If Melba Acheson, Frances Rodgers, and Charlotte Hoon have left anything undone, we delegate that task to Marjorie Mettlen.
27. Aster Hagen, Ellen Jensen, and Lurine Thoreson will their long and impressive silence to Gladys Miller.
28. Martha Sloss and Donald Stevens will their love for History exams to Jake Gottfried and Ruth Scott.
29. Esma Percy, Lorraine Grove, and Geraldine Lang leave their perfected Salome walk to Jewel Craven and Marcella Howell.
30. Kenneth Burnett wills his height to Vernon Bowman.
31. Wild Bill Knous and Art Ruggles leave their leather lungs to Bob Hansen and Verdene Anthony.

THE SPIRIT

32. Helen Cagwin, Winifred Keil, and Lois Kratoska bequeath their Galli Curci talents to Miss Bower.

33. Win Wickham and Russell Craun leave arguing over each other's superiority as champion wind-jammer. We delegate this matter for settlement to Elmer Rath and Dave Damon.

34. Madelyn Murray and Ada Rayness will their ability as type-writer ticklers to Curt Thoreson and Fred Hagen.

35. Dorothy Duckworth and Sarah Sawyer bequeath that school-girl complexion to the first two applicants. Don't crowd! We know you need it.

36. Herman Hagen and Box Holdredge will their success as class-sleepers to Mac McGriff and Max Smith.

37. Quenton Carey leaves Aldis Ruby to—ten bucks he doesn't.

38. Helen Kincaid, Fern Roll, and Dorothy Nordstrom leave their stormy and blustering conversation to Jibby Jones.

39. Lloyd Knight bequeaths his Morris Premium to Moco Doggett.

40. Tom Carberry and Bob Schroeder will their track ability to Silo Brockman.

41. Jake Matlack and Bob Schmidt leave their fond memories of the Terrible Five to Howard Chase.

42. Edna Mortensen and Frances Reis give their freckles to Lela Smith.

43. Louis Judisch and Ray Rail leave, exhausted, and cram full of knowledge. (?)

44. Ransome Nelson and Harry Williams bequeath their positions on the honor roll to Curt Woodruff and Clarence Beck.

45. Florence Clarke wills Earl Dillon Smith to some member of the incoming class of '29.

46. Ashley Sayles bequeaths his smile to Shorty Clark.

47. Chuck Nelson graduates, but he doesn't leave. He will be here for a year or so collecting engraving dues.

We, the Senior Class, of the Hamlet of Ames, County of Taxes, and State of Insanity, do hereby declare this our last will and testament, revoking all former wills of similar nature made by us.

We hereby appoint Gaylord M. Campbell executor of this document, with absolute right to levy penalties for failure of duty.

CLASS PROPHECY

It is a cold day in March, in the year 1952. A cheerful fire is burning in the grate, furnishing the only light in the room. In front of the fire sits a man, dressed in gray trousers and a black sweater. He is rather plump, with light hair and blue eyes. He is sitting quietly, musing over the fire, when the door opens and an elderly lady, presumably the housekeeper, enters. Despite her apparent age, her hair is still black and slightly curly, cut quite short. She addresses the occupant of the room with a slight drawl:

Housekeeper: "Mr. Judisch, the latest issue of Who's Who has just come.

THE SPIRIT

In looking it over, I find a number of our old classmates. Would you care to see it?

Mr. Judisch: Thank you, Miss Grove. And would you mind playing something for me while I look it over?

(Miss Grove—for it is no other—sits down at the piano nearby and plays a popular song entitled “Tho I Have Grown Old, I’ll Follow You Still,” while Mr. Judisch opens the book and looks it over.)

Mr. J. (when song is finished): Would you like to have me read aloud to you?

Miss G.: Certainly; go ahead.

Mr. J.: Ah, this is delightful! Here I find all our old friends and classmates, people I have not heard of for many a year! How strange that we should find them all in this book! Ames Hi School certainly had a fine class that year. But let us see what they are all doing. (Reads) Acheson, Melba, b. 1895. Nat’l Pres. Am. Soc. for Prevention of Use of Mouse Traps. The stars are twinkling! A new moon glows!
Let us climb to the top of a hill
And look on the world that lies below,
All shadowy and still.

Oh, how can it be some are sleeping now
When the fair young moon is high?
A mystic breeze is stirring,
The tree tops rustle and sigh.

Come! now is the time when the sweet rare thoughts
That lie in the hearts of men
Dormant and still for ages past
Flood into mem'ry again.

THE SPIRIT

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '27

It has been three long years since the Class of '27 first saw light in old A. H. S. The days of those years are for the most part bright and happy spots in the memory. At the time they were long and tedious, but now as we look back they seem to be but a small intermission of our life. It is with that the Class of '27 realizes the nearing of the end of its existence in high school life.

It is on account of the above reason that the Class of '27 hereby takes it upon itself to put in printed form its Autobiography. This is to be truthful and simplified.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF THE CLASS OF '27

WRITTEN BY VERDENE ANTHONY, MY SECRETARY

Three years ago I started out to enter into the fight of receiving higher education. This cold, friendless morning in September I became a member of the family known as Ames High School. As I grew older the days lost their friendlessness and became bright, happy, and cheerful. In this delightful atmosphere I began to grow, with a rapidity that was astonishing. In a short time I was even imitating the chestiness of the Senior, the swagger of the Junior, and the lordliness of the Sophomores.

My babyhood was short. I was less than a year old when I started to look out for my own affairs, and to help in supplying the needs of the family. I was seen on the football field, on the basketball court, and in track doing my best to lighten the heavy burden of my brothers and sisters. This help was extended in every branch of work. I was extremely helpful in making a certain mixer a success; yes, even though I made a fool of myself, if I remember rightly.

The first year of my contact with this cruel world was composed of many hardships. These came in various forms. In the fall and winter my lot was not quite so bad, but in the spring when the dandelions bloomed it was different. I was made to cultivate this flower at its first appearance. Later I became chief florist of the school (I mean delivery boy), and it became my regular duty to pick and deliver the said flower to the Seniors' favorite teacher.

For this year the responsibility for the welfare of my interests fell on Ethel Davidson, Class President; Howard Chase, Vice President; Robert Hansen, Secretary and Treasurer. Under this treatment and leadership I survived and lived to see the freegoing life of the upper classmen.

The second year of my life found me a big stripling by the name of Soph. In this adolescent stage of my life I was weighted down with duties that by rights belonged to my elder brothers. At the start of the year a sad event happened that had its effect on me throughout life. That sad event was the death of my little brother Prep. This catastrophe left me the baby of the family, much to my displeasure.

This year my councilors were: President, Howard McGriff; Vice President, Audrey Erickson; Secretary and Treasurer, Verdene Anthony. These officers were the result of an intense political fight in which the boys were the victors.

My third year will long be remembered because of the record I made during that time. It was also my next to last year of life. Since this was the case, there was much to do along the line of leaving behind a career long to be remembered. I set out to do this by placing myself on the football team, by aiding in making a basketball team superior to any previous team, and by making new records in scholarship, Forensic, and Dramatics.

All through my life I have been noted for my unfailing good humor and for my good spirit. It is on account of the last mentioned that I have been able to put on such good parties and class activities.

My advisers for this year were: Robert Hansen, President; Gladys Miller, Vice President; Maxwell Smith, Secretary and Treasurer. Under this leadership my good reputation is accounted for.

This ends my little script as far as I know. If anyone has anything else to add let him say it or forever hold his peace.

THE LESSON

We were counting the days, the hours,
On that morn so bright and clear,
Until the return of all the flowers
Would announce that "Spring is here."

But the cold Northwind came blustering by
Ere the evening sun had set,
And gave voice to this mocking cry:
"Spring here? Oh, no! Not yet!"

And straightway loosed the wind, the rain
The sleet, the snow and then
With folded hands, proclaimed, "Again
I have shown these gullible men.

"Two bluebirds do not make it spring,
Nor yet one sunny day
When all the joyous birds shall sing.
None of these change March to May."

Then went whistling on his way,
Hands shoved in pockets deep;
Because he had no more to say
He went up North to get some sleep.

And now upon old Nature's loom,
The hill, the dale, the mountain steep,
The green appears and flowers bloom.
Ah! Northwind, long may you sleep!

For spring is here. Hurrah for spring!
She is a welcome guest.
When flowers bloom and the whole world sings
" 'Tis spring we love the best."

THE SPIRIT

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

Tramp! Tramp! Tramp! The Sophomores are marching. They have engaged in many battles, minor and major, and in most of them the soldiers have killed at least seventy-five and many times ninety per cent. They have emerged from these battles, the latest of which were the six weeks tests, practically unscathed, and they are now steadily marching forward to the thickest of the battle. If results in the past are indicative of the future, the class of 1928 will go down as the best class that ever fought under the Orange and the Black.

A few days after Labor Day, the Sophomores, just beginning to come into their own, elected several noble personages to lead their forces. David Moody was elected president; Sam O. Harter, vice-president; M. Midge Mettlin, secretary and treasurer; and Mary Brindley, representative to the Student Council.

The class of '28 is unusual in that it has few failures and that it has more of its members listed on the honor roll than any other class. The school points with pride to this illustrious class and it is the secret dream of the faculty that all students will change to Sophomores.

These future leaders take a very prominent part in every High School activity to which they are eligible. Particularly, do we foresee success in athletics as predicted by the splendid records of Don Fish, Derral Koozer, Edwin Hiner, and others. It usually takes the first year for a class entering High School to get settled. Contrary to the rule, the Sophomores have swept the High School out of its dusty corner into the bright light where achievement crowns those whose work has proven satisfactory.

However, they have realized their limitations. They placed third in class basketball and second in the wrestling tournament, but they gave all they had and that in itself is worthy of consideration. May they be guided by that same spirit in the future!

DON FISH.

THE BALLAD OF THE DX HOUND

The DX hound advances to the set;

With care he puts the "cans" upon his ears.

Saith he, "I'm sure 'twill be an orful night."

How soon, how soon, are realized his fears.

"Is this a station?—there, another fade!

Why can't we have a clear night now and then?

Yep, music—jazz, by gosh—and louder, too!

Now he's announcing—there it goes again!

"Well, no use fishing for that one again.

I might get Nauen, somewhere around here.

Whee, I hear something! German accent, too.

'Signing off'—oh, what is there to hear?

"At last, at last, I've got it good and strong!

Here's the announcer—what's he got to say?

'Station—WOI, broadcast'—darn it, what's the use?"

He shuts it off and throws the phones away.

THE SPIRIT

THOUGHTS ON THE TROUBLES CAUSED BY JULIUS CAESAR

(No blame should be attached to Shakespeare, as, but for Caesar, there would have been no play or commentaries.)

Friends, pupils, and teacher, give me your ears;
I wish that I could bury Caesar once forever.
But teacher says that Caesar is immortal;
And teacher is a truth person.
The evil that men do, lives after them;
And so it is with Caesar. For days and nights,
For months and months gone by,
We have heard of nothing else but Caesar.
But teacher says that this is good for us;
And teacher is a truthful person.
Do you remember that one one day last term,
To gain a slight respite from Caesar's evils,
I did attempt a joke or two at the expense of Caesar;
And for this joke was I condemned.
Was this in me a desperate deed,
To gain a slight escape from my great woes?
But teacher says we must not joke at Caesar:
And teacher is a truthful person.
Think of the children yet unborn, who still must study Caesar;
You all do pity them full well, I know,
Except the one we sometimes call our best beloved teacher.
Yet Caesar not alone disturbs our joys.
It is not he alone, who makes us long
For that escape from him which comes alone with death.
There are worse evils yet to tell,
To spoil the happiness of you, my friends.
There's Cicero and Virgil, not to mention that torturing historian, Livy.
Have patience, gentle friends; I must not tell you.
It is not meet you know how you must suffer.
You are not wood, you are not stones, but children;
I should do the teachers and the principal wrong,
Who, you all know, the truthful persons.
When they say that we must study Caesar.
I rather choose to cast the blame on Brutus,
That he did not dispatch them all,
And burn the cursed books they wrote,
Rather than leave our minds to suffer
And long for death, not only for ourselves,
But for our children and our children's children.
Oh, death, where is thy sting!

STUDENT COUNCIL

President—Jack Graves
 Vice President—Audrey Erickson
 Secretary—Rodney Fox

Three years ago Ames High organized a Student Council. The Girl Reserves and Hi-Y investigated Student Councils in other schools and decided that it would be a success here.

The Council has representatives from every organization in school. Some of its activities have been to back athletics and school organizations and to promote our honor system. Every six weeks the honor roll is posted in the trophy cabinet so that we may get a comparative idea of the kind of work we are doing. This encourages the students to try for better scholarship.

The officers and committee of the Student Council have worked diligently to make it a success. We are proud of the organization and the things it has done for Ames High.

"A" CLUB

President—Jack Graves

Vice President—Audrey Erickson

Secretary—Ethel Davidson

The "A" Club is open for membership to all pupils who have won their letters in athletics, debate, declamatory, judging, and to those who have won trainer's monograms.

It is the purpose of the Club to reward special work in these different activities.

At the beginning of the year the Club met and elected officers. At the end of the football season, it initiated new members who had won their letters this year. It will hold another initiation at the end of the year for those who have won their letters or monograms in basketball, debate, declamatory, track, or tennis.

The "A" Club has charge of the Grade School Athletic Tournaments, and is endeavoring by this to develop future athletes for the High School. The sale of tickets for basketball and football games, and the debates is also in charge of this organization. It has succeeded especially well this year, for the sales have been larger than ever before.

One of the most noteworthy things the "A" Club is doing this year is the awarding of an "A" medal to the person standing highest in all around high school spirit. This person must have done his share in fostering the different activities and must stand high in scholarship. The winner is to be chosen by a group of teachers who will be selected by the Club. They will review the activities entered into by each Junior and Senior student and will decide who is to be the winner.

Top row: Miller, Acheson, Duckworth, McCarthy, Reis.
 Second row: Howell, Martin, Browning, Davis, Cattell.
 Third row: Woodburn, Miss Burnside, Mrs. Anderson, Miss Seaman, Raymond.

GIRL RESERVE CABINET

President—Alberta Davis
 Vice President—Frances Martin
 Secretary and Treasurer—Frances Reis

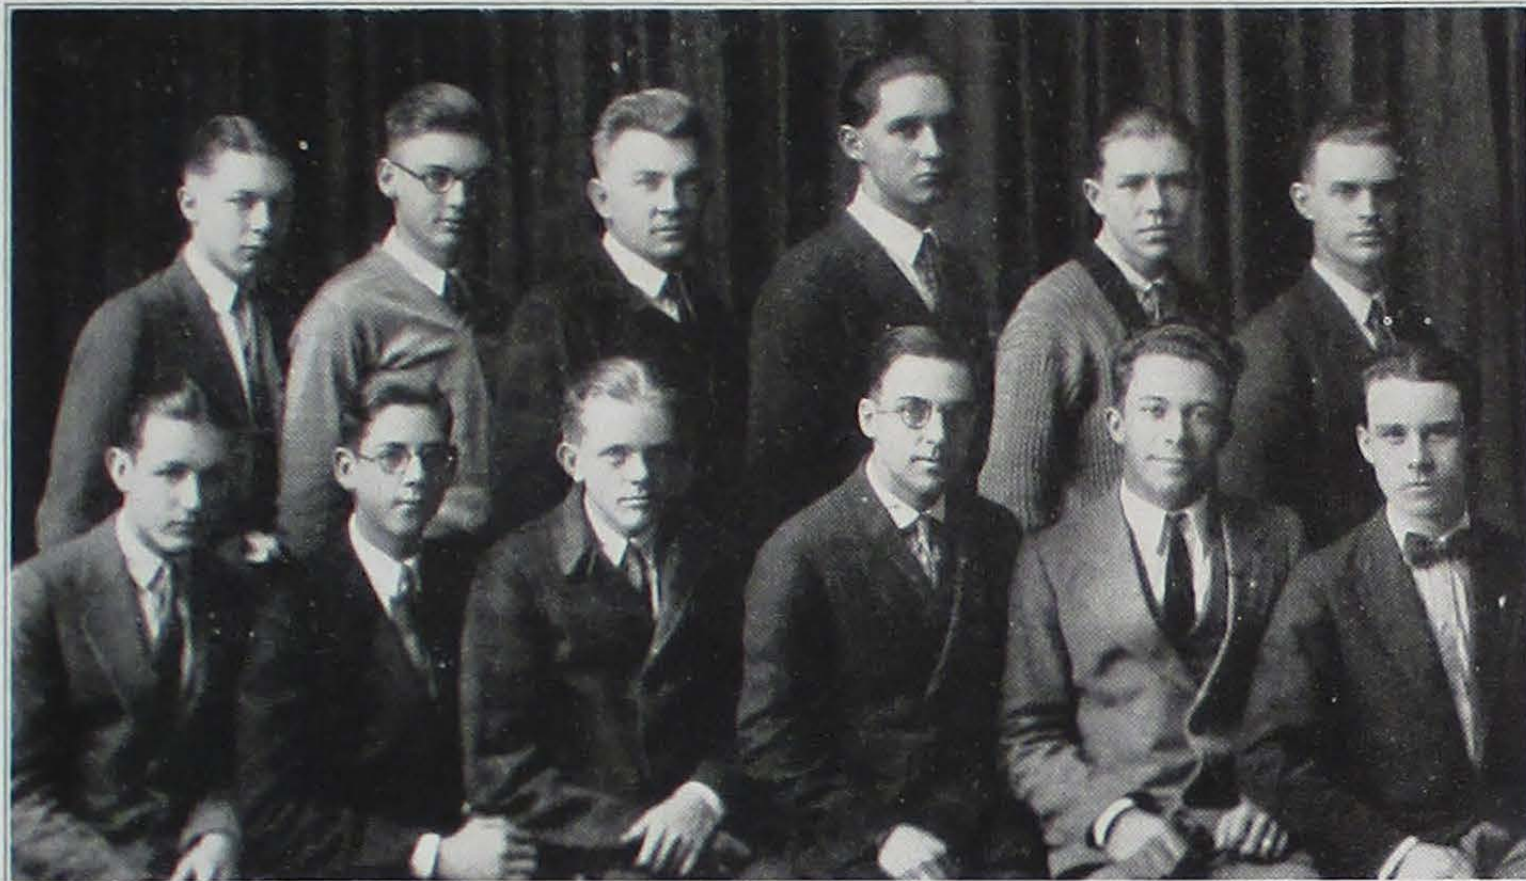

At the first meeting of the Girl Reserves, the new officers were installed. These girls, under the supervision of Mrs. Anderson, Miss Seaman, and Miss Burnside, have guided the High School girls through the year.

Alberta Davis, president, presided at all the meetings. Devotions were conducted each time by a member whose birthday happened to be on the day of the meeting.

Very interesting programs have been arranged during the year. The Athletic Committee planned a program for girls interested in sports and the Girl Reserve teams have had some very exciting games. The Social Service Committee has had several candy sales. They also distributed baskets among the poor children of Ames at Thanksgiving and entertained the poor children of Ames at a Christmas party.

Two Sunday vesper services were held jointly with the Hi-Y.

One of the most important features in this year's work was a Friendship Conference. Each Junior and Senior girl was given a special conference with an experienced Y. W. C. A. worker. The conference closed with a Mother and Daughter Banquet given to the daughters by the mothers.

Top row: Long, Fox, Harlan, Cory, Dale, Mr. Perringer.
Second row: McGriff, Stephenson, Feroe, Mr. Stearns, Williams, Hughes.

THE HI-Y

President—Lewis Long
Vice President—Donald Fish
Secretary—Howard McGriff

The boys of Ames High have derived a great deal of benefit and enjoyment from the Hi-Y. The increase that has been made in the membership of the club is indicative of its success.

The meetings are held every Monday, third period, in the auditorium. Some of the outstanding activities of the organization this year included the High School Mixer, the annual Christmas party given with the Girl Reserves, and the Father and Son banquet.

The Hi-Y has accomplished its purpose as expressed in its motto: "Create, maintain and extend throughout the community high standards of Christian character."

Top row: Long, Hemstreet, M. Axelton, Bentley, Barr, Knight.
Second row: Young, Moore, Anthony, Smith, Paine, Welsh.
Third row: Gottfried, Bradley, W. Wickham, Matlack, R. Wickham, G. Morrison, McMillin, D. Morrison.
Fourth row: Carr, Hinshaw, Mansfield, Mr. Stearns, Keese, Jones, Nelson, Feroe, Carey.

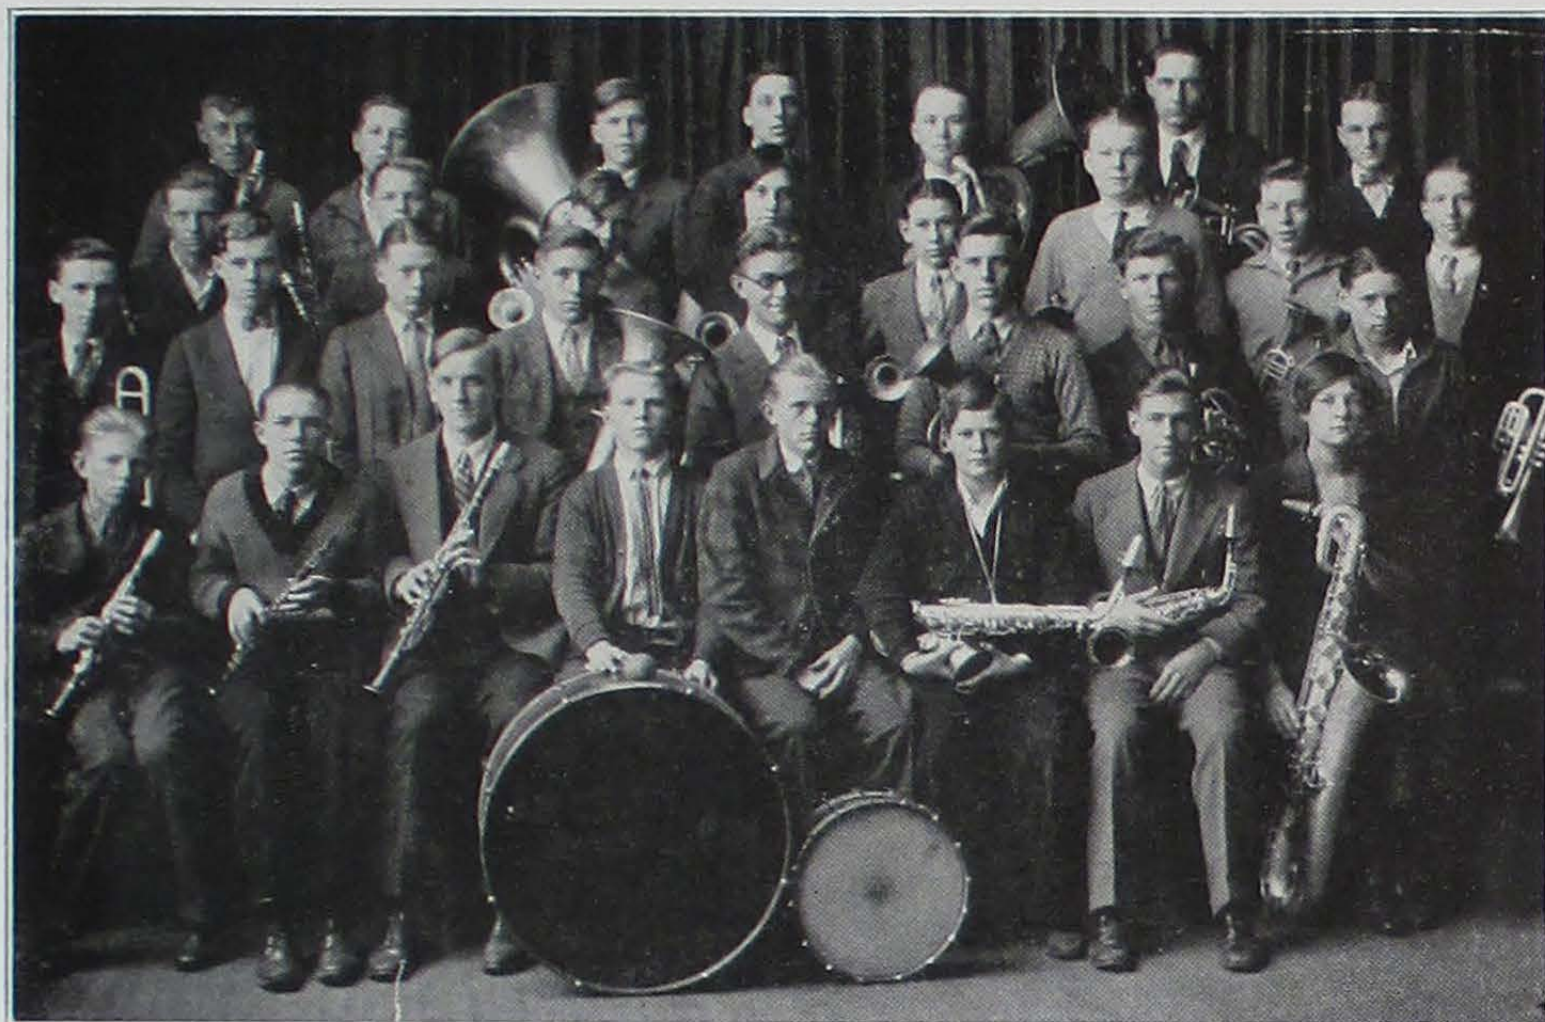

ORCHESTRA

President—Lewis Long

As was the case with the band, the idea of team work is stressed in the orchestra. The members practice their music outside, and are expected to exercise this training in the weekly rehearsals in unison with the other members.

The orchestra furnished the music for the operetta and the Junior and Senior Class plays this year. It will also play at the Commencement exercises.

The orchestra is fortunate in being under the direction of Mr. Stearns, who, although this has been the most progressive year in its history, predicts still more success for this organization the next year.

Top row: Smith, Welsh, M. Axelton, Mr. Stearns, Peterson, Cory, Knight.
Second row: R. Wickham, Mixa, Morrison, Kuhn, Sexton, Brockman, Moody, Norman.
Third row: Van Scoy, Griffith, Long, Bentley, Smith, Adams, Beck, Barr.
Fourth row: Hagen, Dale, Rynerson, Marvin, Axelton, Feroe, Iler, Paine, Nott.

BAND

President—Lloyd Knight

The purpose of the band is not only to give training in music, but also to develop the idea of team work among the members. The members learn their music outside and apply what they learn in the rehearsals.

Although the band has not been able to carry out the extensive program planned, it has accompanied the football team to all its games and has done far more this year than ever before.

The band is under the splendid direction of Mr. Stearns.

THE SPIRIT

Top row: Stiles, Hemstreet, Cory, Dunahoo, Smith, Bentley, Feroe, Beck, Thoreson.
Second row: Hughes, Peterson, Williams, Owen, Mixa, Ruggles, Anthony, Martin, Smith.
Third row: Griffith, Iler, Norman, Erwin, Mr. Stearns, Maxwell, Gladwin, Young, Richardson, Doggett, Long.
Fourth row: Longsdon, Miller, Matlack, Burnett, Jones, Stephenson, Cole, Rynerson, Schmidt.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

President	.	.	Jerrold Feroe
Secretary	.	.	Roger Martin

The Boys' Glee Club has had its third progressive year under the direction of Mr. Stearns. It has experienced the largest membership in its history, having over thirty boys enrolled.

The club cooperated with the Girls' Glee Club and the Mixed Chorus in producing the splendid operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon," which was pronounced the best ever presented by these organizations.

Four boys chosen from this organization make up the membership of the A-M-E-S Quartette, which led us in our school songs during the football season.

Top row: Nelson, Edwin, Pleshek, Leaty, R. Miller, Raymond, Fish, Parno.
Second row: Ruggles, Kratoska, Rodgers, Cody, Miss Bower, Holsinger, Browning, Bappe, J. Miller.
First row: Edgerton, Scott, Coffman, Dutch, Hoon, Van Nice, Briley, Woods, Mettlin.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

President—Charlotte Hoon
Secretary—Edna Holsinger
Librarian—Jeanette Miller

The Girls' Glee Club has had another successful year under the excellent supervision of Miss Bower.

Last year they won the state championship in Class B. This year they won first in the preliminary contest at Des Moines and they hope to win the State contest at Iowa City.

The members of the club took important parts in the annual operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon," and when it was produced it proved to be one of the best that had ever been presented in the school.

THE SPIRIT

Top row: Owen, Peterson, Scott, Stephenson, Miss Bower, Rynerson, Richardson, Smith.

Second row: Hughes, Scott, Coffman, Van Scoy, Pleshek, Minert, Fish, Miller, A. Ruggles.

Third row: H. Ruggles, Browning, Mixa, Allen, Kratoska, Holsinger, Aplan, Horner.

Fourth row: Kuhn, White, Cory, Dunahoo, Williams, Leaty, Rodgers.

MIXED CHORUS

President—Edna Holsinger

Secretary—Ruth Scott

Librarian, Maxwell Smith

At the beginning of the school year, the Mixed Chorus was organized in Ames High. The personnel was chosen from the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs. It is under the direction of Miss Bower.

The purpose of the Mixed Chorus is to provide special work in music for those who are especially interested and desire more than the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs provide.

The group won first at the preliminary contest at Des Moines and has entered the state contest. The chorus has entertained us in assemblies and it played a most important part in the High School operetta which was given March 19.

We expect a great deal from the Mixed Chorus, and judging from its first year's success, we will not be disappointed.

THE SPIRIT

Top row: Morris, Wagner, Anderson, G. Miller, B. Martin, Clark, R. Schmidt, M. Shupe, Baker, Judisch, F. Martin, R. Miller, Duitch, Olson, Livingston.
Second row: Miss Lynch, McLeod, Aitkinson, Catell, Maitland, White, Kunerth, Hansen, McCarthy, Pritchard, Brownfield, Nott, Middleton, J. Miller, Thurber, Mrs. Bauer.
Third row: Parno, Briley, Ruby, Canady, Browning, Davis, Howell, Ruggles, Everett, Randau, Kennedy, Scott, Madson.
Fourth row: Leaty, Rodgers, Murphy, Acheson, D. Erwin, Craven, Davidson, Cody, Wilson, Clay.
Fifth row: Jones, Hagen, Foster, Harter, Collins, Banks, H. Erwin, Kooser, Hughes.

DRAMATIC CLUB

President—Marcella Howell
Vice President—Derral Kooser
Secretary—Ethel Davidson

The dramatic club, under the supervision of Miss Lynch, has the largest enrollment in its history this year and has been given the privilege of holding its meetings every Friday the third period in the auditorium.

It is the purpose of the club to provide an enriched course of study in dramatical work through a knowledge of books and authors. Those who have talent or interest in such a study are eligible.

Shortly before the Christmas vacation, the club presented before the student body in assembly, a play entitled "The Unexpectedness of Katherine Henry," which was greatly enjoyed.

The programs are presented by different members at the weekly meetings of the club. These usually consist of readings, music, humorous stunts, and reports on books or authors.

Top row: Smith, Gladwin, Kintzsley, Erwin, Jones.
 Second row: Knous, Mr. Perringer, Davidson, Hughes.

The debate team enjoyed a successful year in our High School. The state question for this year's debate season was, "Resolved, that the Federal Government should own and operate the coal mines of the United States."

Several appeared as candidates at the preliminary contest, and when the tryouts were held, the following representatives were chosen: William Knous, Ethel Davidson, Weston Jones, Maxwell Smith, John Hughes, Russell Kintzley, Howard Erwin, and Stanley Collins. They all won their pearl pins except Knous, who won his pearl pin with the ruby at the apex, and Collins, who won his plain pin.

The team debated against Boone, Newton, Webster City, and Roosevelt High of Des Moines, and won decisions from Boone, Newton, and Webster City.

Miller, Gildersleeve, Mrs. Bauer, Everett.

DECLAMATORY

Out of the thirty contestants for Declamatory, the first place in the final contest was given in oratorical to "The Black Horse and His Rider," by Loucilla Gildersleeve; in Dramatic to "Madame Butterfly," by Dorothy Everett; and in humorous to "By Courier," by Jeannette Miller.

Ames participated in five interschool contests, two triangular, and three in the state series.

Dorothy Everett and Jeannette Miller won first places in the preliminary contest with Boone and Jordan. This sent them to the sub-district contest held at Jefferson, with seven schools competing. Ames again carried off two honors.

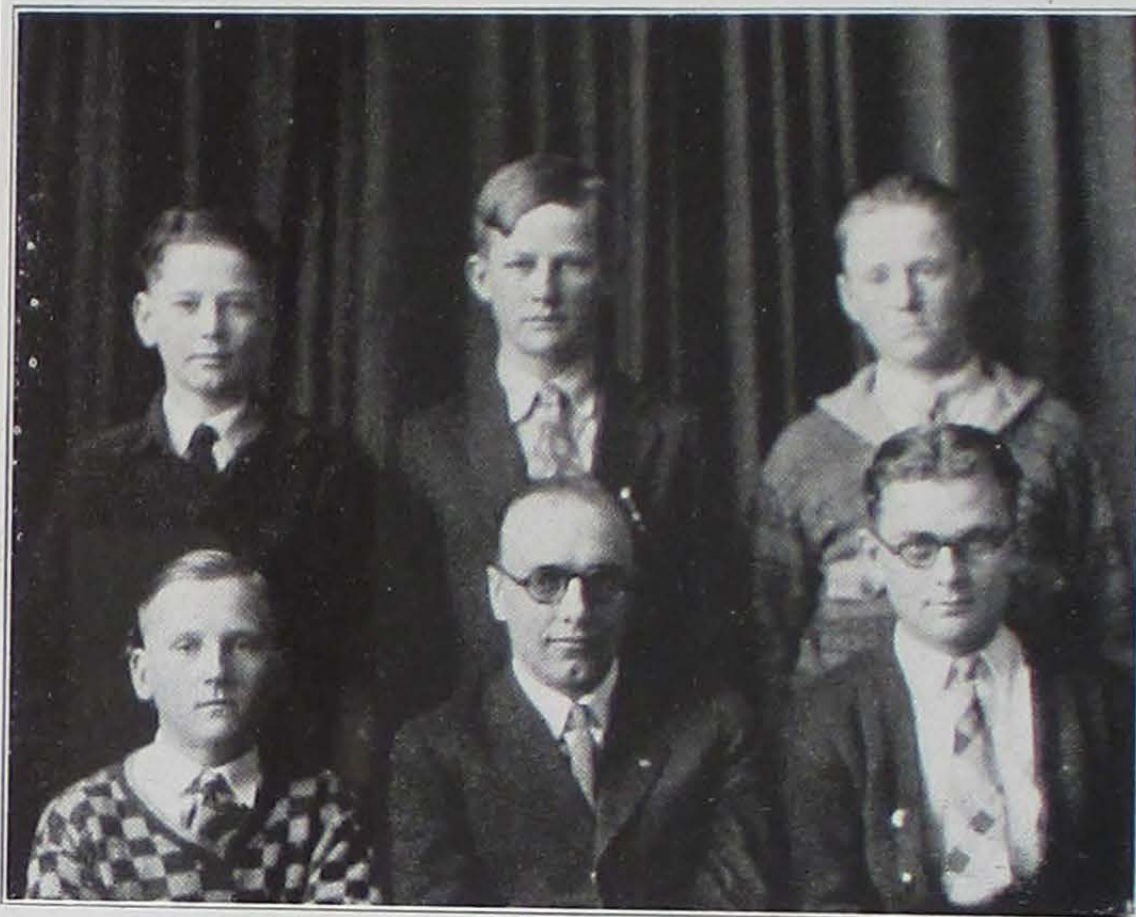

Our successful year was ended at the pre-district contest held at Webster City. Here eleven schools contested, and Dorothy Everett took second place and Jeannette Miller third. Although Ames received high honors, the value of the experience gained was even greater.

We feel that a large part of the honor must go to the splendid training given by Mrs. Juanita Bauer.

As usual the contestants were awarded their pearled "A" pins given through the courtesy of the Union National Bank. This year, a ruby was set in the "A's" given to those who were receiving their second award.

THE SPIRIT

Top row: Larson, Maxwell, McCoy.
Second row: Olsen, Mr. Swanson, Smith.

JUDGING TEAM

Five boys, Glen Smith, Ralph Olson, Donald Larson, George Maxwell, and Millard McCoy make up the membership of this year's judging term in Ames High.

The team winner of first place in the County Judging Contest entered the State Contest this year, and competing against forty-eight high school teams, won first place. Olson was high individual of all contestants, while McCoy was third and Maxwell eighth. They brought back three loving cups for the school's trophy cabinet.

Those who represented Ames High in this activity were awarded minor gold "A's" at one of the assemblies.

THE SPIRIT

Top row: Peterson, Beyer, Cox, Kincaid, Wilmarth, Matlack, Jones, Gladwin, Raymond.
Second row: Griffith, Rutter, Kunerth, Herrmann, Miller, Cagwin, Kopf, Elliott, Netcott.
Third row: Livingston, Davis, Canady, Briley, Guthrie, Cattell, Carter, Kennedy, Jensen.
Fourth row: Clements, Dutch, Wagner, Acheson, Mrs. Garo, Shipman, Keil, Anderson, Orning.

BIBLE STUDY CLUB

President—Winifred Keil

Secretary and Treasurer—Melba Acheson

For several years, a course of ten lessons in Bible study has been offered during the spring term in our high school. Each year the Girl Reserves arrange for this as it is one of the activities which they foster.

Last year a course was offered on the life of Paul.

This year the subject is "Great Leaders in the Old Testament." Such characters as Abraham, Moses, Samuel, David, Solomon, Elijah and Amos are studied.

THE SPIRIT

Top row: Anthony, Long, Hansen, R. Martin, Peterson, Kintzley.
Second row: Sherman, Raymond, F. Martin, Miss Lynch, Browning, Jones.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

On Friday, January 29, the Junior class presented "The Time of His Life" in the High School Auditorium.

The tangled state of affairs which resulted when Tom Carter consents to accommodate his sister and masquerade as Uncle Tom, her negro servant who has gone for the day, causes much merriment and excitement. Finally, however, the real Uncle Tom appears and the situation is cleared up to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Arnold Gladwin was especially good as "a pessimist with a digestion," and Weston Jones very cleverly took the part of the old negro servant, Uncle Tom.

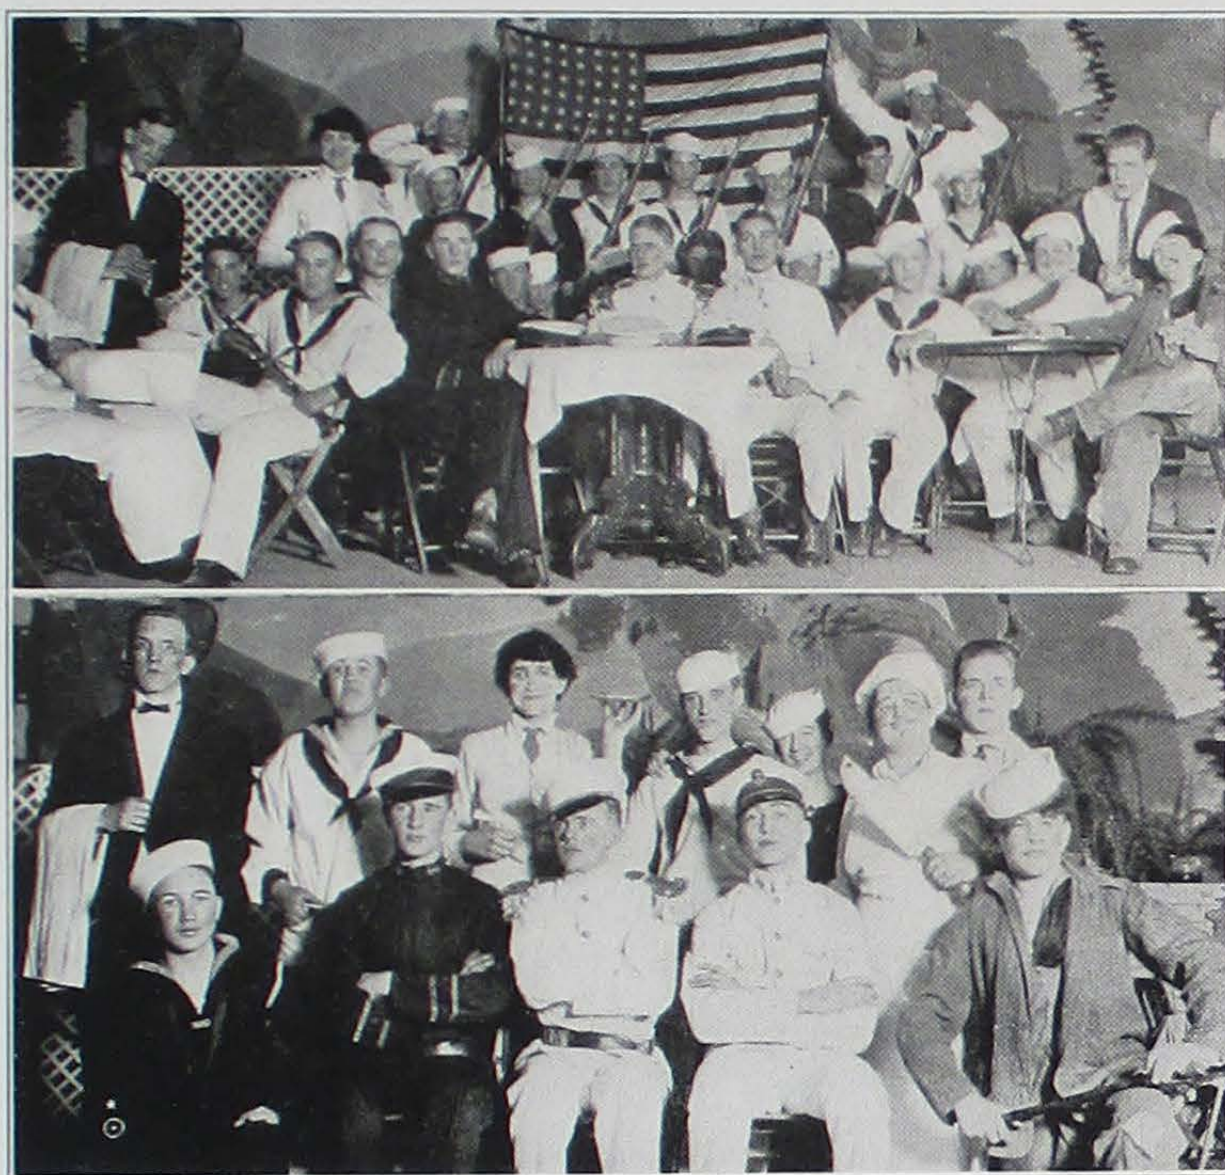

The entire cast took their parts remarkably well, and under the splendid direction of Miss Lynch the play was pronounced a decided success. In fact, it was so successful that it was repeated at the Story City High School.

OFF DUTY

"Off Duty," a play written and directed by H. P. Stearns, was presented by the Boys' Glee Club on April 9th. The play with songs and dances by the members of the club was very cleverly worked out.

"Off Duty" is a story dealing with the fun and adventure of a crew of "gobs," off duty for a day. The play was well received by the audience, many of them expressing hopes that similar presentations might be given in the years to come.

OPERETTA

The Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs presented the operetta, "Once in a Blue Moon," before a large audience in the High School Auditorium, Friday, March 19.

After an absence of four years at college, Robert Harrington is expected to return to the home of his foster aunt, Mrs. Montgomery, for a week-end party. Robert is engaged to Sylvia Montgomery, but in his absence he has fallen in love with another girl so he sends in his place, George Taylor, a classmate who closely resembles him. George Taylor really does care for Sylvia and she returns his love. Circumstances arise which compel George to make his identity known. A telegram from the real Robert comes in time to make a happy ending.

The production was a real achievement and much credit for its success is due to Miss Bower, who coached it.

AMES HOMECOMING

Ames High attempted a great many new things this year and among them was the first "Homecoming" which took place November 14.

Friday afternoon, a big "pep" assembly was held at which the football boys and Mr. Campbell were awarded with small "Good Luck" pins by Marcella Howell. Jack Graves, Captain for 1926, received a larger one with a star in the center.

"Zac" Dunlap gave a very interesting talk and instilled into everyone a great deal of his pep.

"Eb" Howell, one of the most popular and best liked Ames High graduates, told the students very frankly just what they were doing and what they were capable of doing.

Friday evening, the students showed Eb and Zac that they had profited from what had been said. The entire student body marched through Main Street following the band and then went to the Athletic field where they had a big bonfire. Mr. Davis, Coach Campbell, the Captain and several of the alumni made speeches. After the bonfire was over, the students marched back to the High school.

This pep was retained through the next day and it was this enthusiasm that helped beat Jefferson.

At the bonfire Saturday night, several members of the team gave talks. It seems that Friday and Saturday made up the "peppiest" week-end Ames High has experienced in a good many years, and the football boys showed their appreciation by the speeches they gave at the last bonfire.

We hope that this will not be the last "Homecoming" in Ames High and that each one in the future will be "peppier" than the last.

CALENDAR

THE PERSONAL DIARY OF A LITTLE CYCLONE

- September 7—I labored Labor Day. In other words, I started to school.
11—I "mixed" with the rest of the students of A. H. S.
15—Class officers were elected.
25—I became endowed with pep at the first Pep Assembly, and then filled up at the Hi-Y party.
27—I made my debut in foot-ball and tied Colo with a 6.
28—I started getting subscriptions for the Spirit.
30—I needed volume at athletic contests so had yell-leaders' try-outs.

THE SPIRIT

- October 3—I did some deep sea diving with Nevada and we each got six pearls.
10—In the best battle I ever put up, I lost 20-0, but I fought as long as they would let me. My little 2nd team brother, Baby Cyclone, lost 6-0, too.
17—Some Swedes came down from Story City and scared me so much that I won 6-0.
24—Ball bounced off Boone's head and I fumbled a tackle at Old Man Victory twice. I had to give it to Boone—13-0.
31—Indianola out-played me, 6-0. Hallowe'en saw the ground almost covered with a sheet of snow.
- November 4—I turned Junior tonight for the Junior Class Party.
5—Valley Junction got 33 points but I "rouped" them out of 7.
6—Yesterday and today I sent the teachers to Des Moines to improve (if possible) their education.
11—Armistice Day—Nothin' doin'.
13—Friday the 13th, Lucky Day. A Pep Meeting and bonfire aroused my enthusiasm for foot-ball tomorrow.
14—All my old friends came back home to watch me beat Jefferson 7-6 and see Baby Cyclones beat Colo 13-6.
21—Iowa Falls hung to the top of the hill where they played better than I did and beat 13-6.
26—No school but I met Turkey—and won!
- December 10—I picked three declamers to represent me.
11—I broke even with Boone in a hot argument.
Jordan was game, but I had to win my first basketball game 23-32.
18—Boone 20 and Ames got "ate." Baby Cyclone got 8 and Nevada 10.
The G. R. and Hi-Y had a Christmas party for some less fortunate little friends.
25—Santy re-occurred to me again.
- January 1—I resolved.
4—School again and I didn't have any lessons.
8—I out-argued with Newton, but they only gave me an even break.
I got revenge on Valley Junction for foot-ball, 37-17.
9—Likewise, I avenged another foot-ball defeat by ruining Marshalltown 22-11. Baby Cyclone kicked the slats out of Martown's young brother's cradle 22-15.
15—I couldn't stand the strain, I guess, and Marshalltown licked me at wrestling 21-12 and Nevada at basket ball 23-21.
16—Eldora Training School proved too much in wrestling. They got a decision of 17-10.
22—Clarion got 25, but I got 1. I licked Story City at basketball 27-16. Some consolation.
23—Newton needed a washing machine after I licked 'em.
29—Clarion won, but Gilbert was licked. Baby Cyclone surely walloped him 39-7.
In the evening I went on the stage with the Juniors and got laughed at plenty.
30—I again proved my superiority at Valley Junction.

THE SPIRIT

- February 5—The Swedes from Story City kinda' beat me.
6—I got lost on Newton's big floor. They won 31-10.
12—I went to an assembly given in honor of Abraham Lincoln.
Had hard luck with Nevada again and Marshalltown had to go
and beat me in wrestling so I'm all broken up.
13—Luck beat me at Eldora today 14-10.
19-20—I wrestled at I. S. C. and I got an individual championship.
26—I did a snake dance at school and collected enough pep to give
Boone a sleeper. Referee's decision was 23-19 for me.
- March 3—Commodore Longfellow amazed and amused me.
5—Miscellaneous but peppy Assembly encouraged me. Ogden couldn't withstand, so I beat 27-19.
6—Boone put a turn-table under me 32-20.
11-12—Debate. Roosevelt licked me 2-1 at Des Moines and come up here and licked me 3-0.
12—I was more successful at the Sub-District declamatory at Jefferson and won two firsts. I have a rather complete calendar for the remainder of the year. Some of my most important dates include the following:
18—Drake Debate Tournament.
26—Pre-District Declamatory Contest.
- April 24—Typewriting and Shorthand District Contest at Ames.
- May 4—Girl Reserve Picnic.
15—Typewriting and Shorthand State Contest at Des Moines.
15—Girl Reserve Cabinet Luncheon.
21-22—Senior Class Play.
25-26-27—Senior Examinations.
29—Junior-Senior Banquet.
30—Class Sermon.
- June 3—Class night.
4—Commencement.

THE SPIRIT

THE FOOTBALL SEASON

From a standpoint of scores, the season was not a great success. However, when one looks at the schedule played a different view may be taken. Some of the strongest teams in the state were met, such as Marshalltown, Jefferson and Valley Junction. The team was at the height of their success in the Marshalltown game. The hard schedule, however, began to tell on them and it was not until the Homecoming game that they again regained the old spirit.

Mr. Campbell should be congratulated on the fine team of sportsmanlike players that he developed. Ames High has always had the name of being clean players and this year's team was no exception.

AMES 6, COLO 6

For the season's opener, Ames journeyed to Colo and with an inexperienced team managed to hold the Colo boys to a tie.

In the first half both teams lacked the punch to put over a score. However, late in the second quarter Colo made a touchdown.

The second half was slow until "Max" Smith intercepted a pass and brought the crowd to their feet by his fifty-two yard run. Neither team was able to kick goal. The rest of the half was spent trying to break the tie score.

Fish, Hansen, Richardson, and Howell were the stars of the Ames defense.

AMES 6, NEVADA 6

Our jinx hung on and we tied the boys from the county seat.

The teams battled on a field that was partly submerged and it made good playing very difficult. Nevada put over a touchdown off our guards the first quarter. In the second period "Little" Allan made our only score.

In the second half both teams tried desperately to make a score, but the condition of the ball hindered them. The game ended 6-6.

Howell, Hansen, Allen and Graves played for Ames in the best style that could be expected on that kind of a field.

AMES 0, MARSHALLTOWN 20

Playing against a team that had been undefeated during the season, Ames put up a good fight against the Marshalltown grid followers. After the first kickoff, Ames secured the ball and advanced to Marshalltown's goal. Allan's dropkick failed. Several times during the first half Ames threatened their goal. The half ended 0-0.

Marshalltown came back very strong in the second half, and with superior weight began to gain against us. They finally put over one touchdown followed immediately by two others.

Howell played one of the best games at end he has ever played, while Hansen was a stone wall at center.

AMES 0, BOONE 13

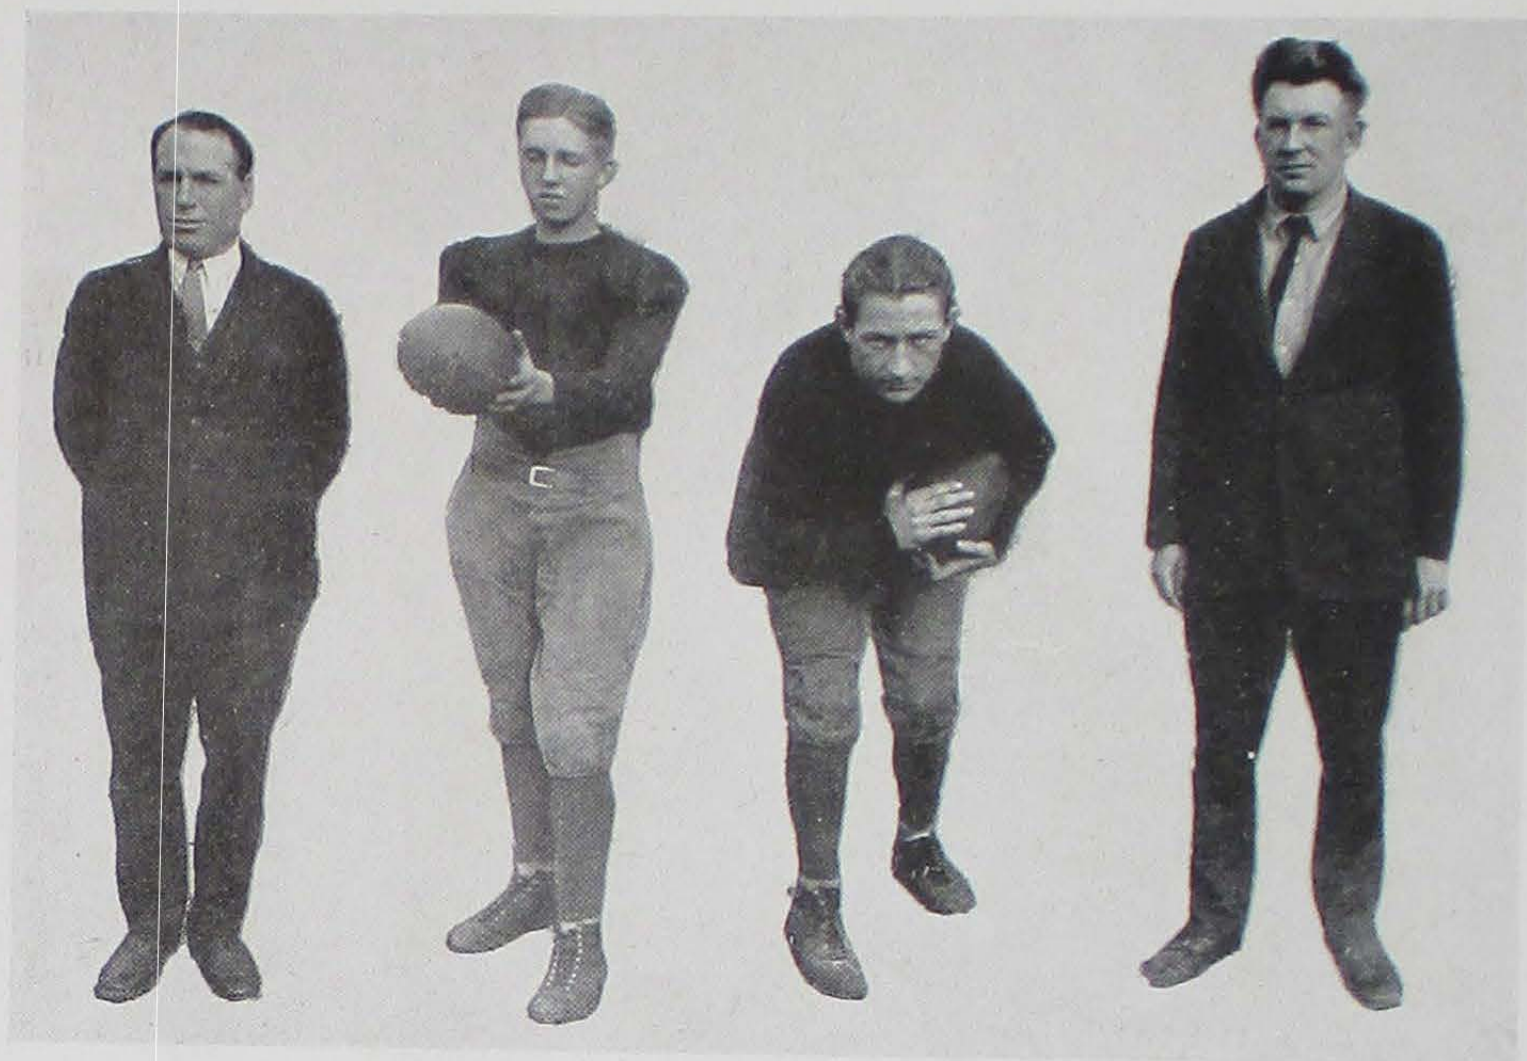

Our old rivals took us into their camp. Fumbling was a big factor in our defeat.

Boone scored their first touchdown after an Ames fumble put them into position. Ames threatened the Boone goal several times, but lacked the neces-

THE SPIRIT

Campbell, Graves, Allen, Harlan.

MR. CAMPBELL

Mr. Campbell again added a successful season to his coaching career.

Working with a large squad, "Coach" was able in a few short weeks to organize a team that Ames High was proud to have representing them.

With Mr. Campbell back again next year, we may look forward to another successful season.

CAPTAIN GRAVES (End)

Jack ended his High School football career with a fine record. His punting was consistent all season, keeping opponents well in their own territory.

GALE ALLAN (Half)

"Grange" won his third and last letter. With his brilliant playing, he was a marked man by our gridiron enemies.

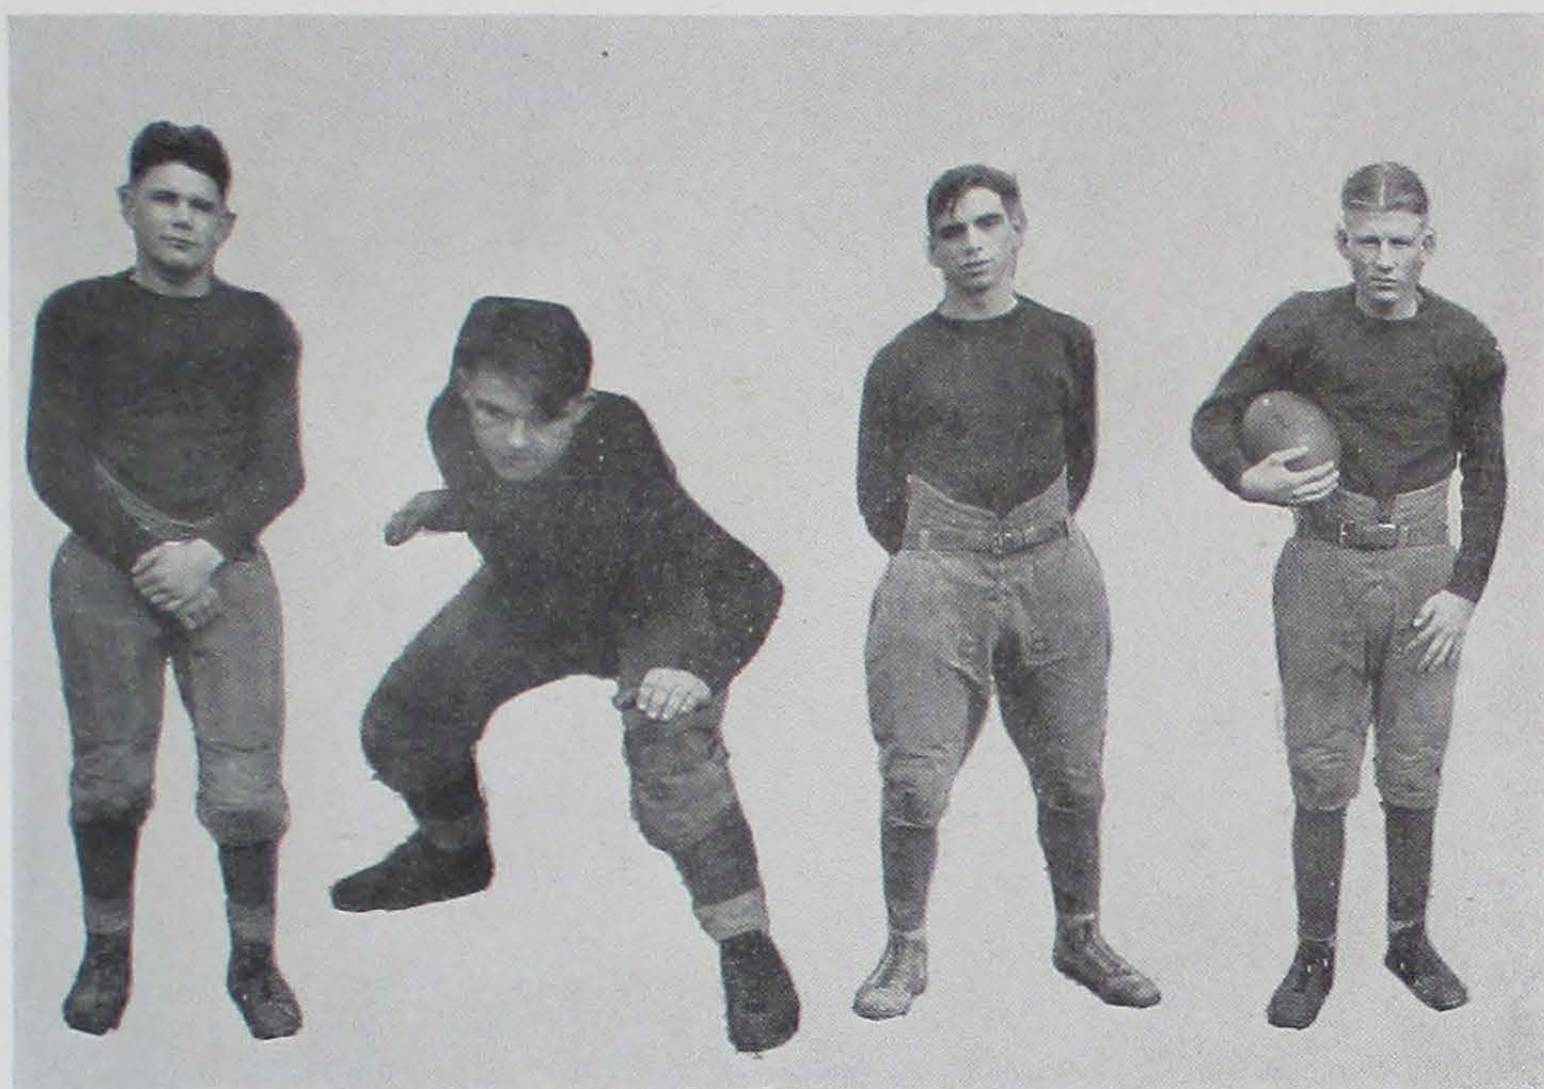

MR. HARLAN

Mr. Harlan in charge of the reserves developed some promising material for Mr. Campbell. Harlan's second team also was able to win a large share of their games.

Mr. Harlan's assistance was very much appreciated by the squad.

THE SPIRIT

Fish, Ruggles, Howell, Erickson.

DON FISH (Tackle)

"Canned" won his first letter this year. He was a strong man, always in on the play.

ARTHUR RUGGLES (Tackle and Guard)

Art won his third and last letter this year. He will be greatly missed next

DANA HOWELL (End)

The other end of the line was capably held down by "Howl." His best work was nailing the receivers of Graves's long punts.

AUDREY ERICKSON (Half)

Audie won his second letter and has one year of competition left. He was a line plunger of no mean ability.

sary drive. The punting of Graves kept Boone from our goal several times, but luck was against us and Boone scored twice. A freak punt that gave Boone a chance to score was responsible. The whistle blew shortly after Boone had secured their last point.

Howell, Erickson, Martin, and Kooser played the best football for Ames.

AMES 6, STORY CITY 0

With the first victory of the season, we initiated our new field. Story City was completely bewildered by the passing attack our team presented.

THE SPIRIT

Roup, Rynerson, Hansen, Smith.

LYLE ROUP (Quarter)

"Fatty"—the smallest and fastest man on the squad—won his first football letter this year, and will be greatly missed next season.

WALLACE RYNERSON (Guard)

"Bimbo" always kept his head and followed the play. He won his first and last letter this season.

ROBERT HANSEN (Center)

"Bluing" developed into a real aggressive player. He won his first letter this year, and will be back one more season.

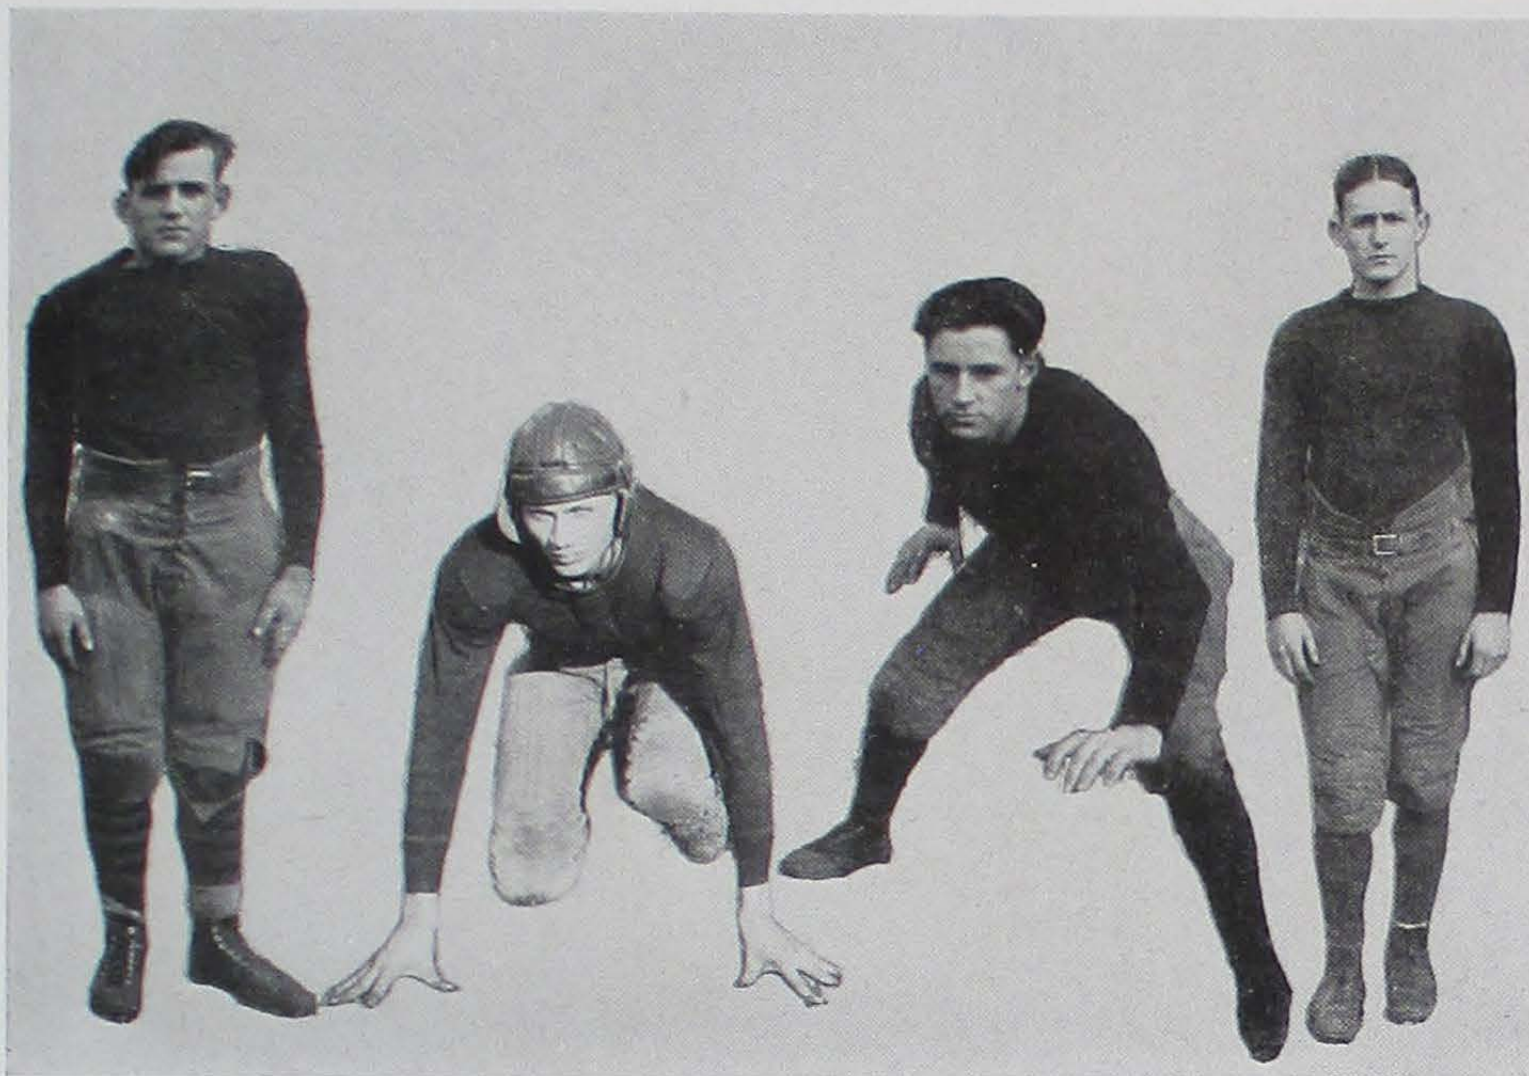

MAXWELL SMITH (Full)

Max was the passer of the team. On several occasions, his passes resulted in long gains or scores. He has a year of competition remaining.

Gale Allan in the first half made the only score of the game. From then on, the team weakened and allowed Story City to threaten our goal several times. Graves's punting kept the Story City backs from our goal on these occasions. Gale Allan was easily the star of the backfield while Hansen and Ruggles played a fine game in the line.

AMES 0, INDIANOLA 6

Playing on a muddy field, the Little Cyclones held the heavy Indianola team to a 6-0 score.

Holdredge, Knous, Richardson, McGriff.

EARL HOLDREDGE (Guard and Full)

Earl played a great game in the line and in the backfield was rightly named the "human battering ram."

WILLIAM KNOUS (Tackle)

Willie was in on every play, always doing his best. This is his last year.

OTTO RICHARDSON (Guard)

This was "Auto's" second year of playing, and he clearly showed that he had not lost any of his ability. He will be back next year.

HOWARD McGRIFF (Quarter)

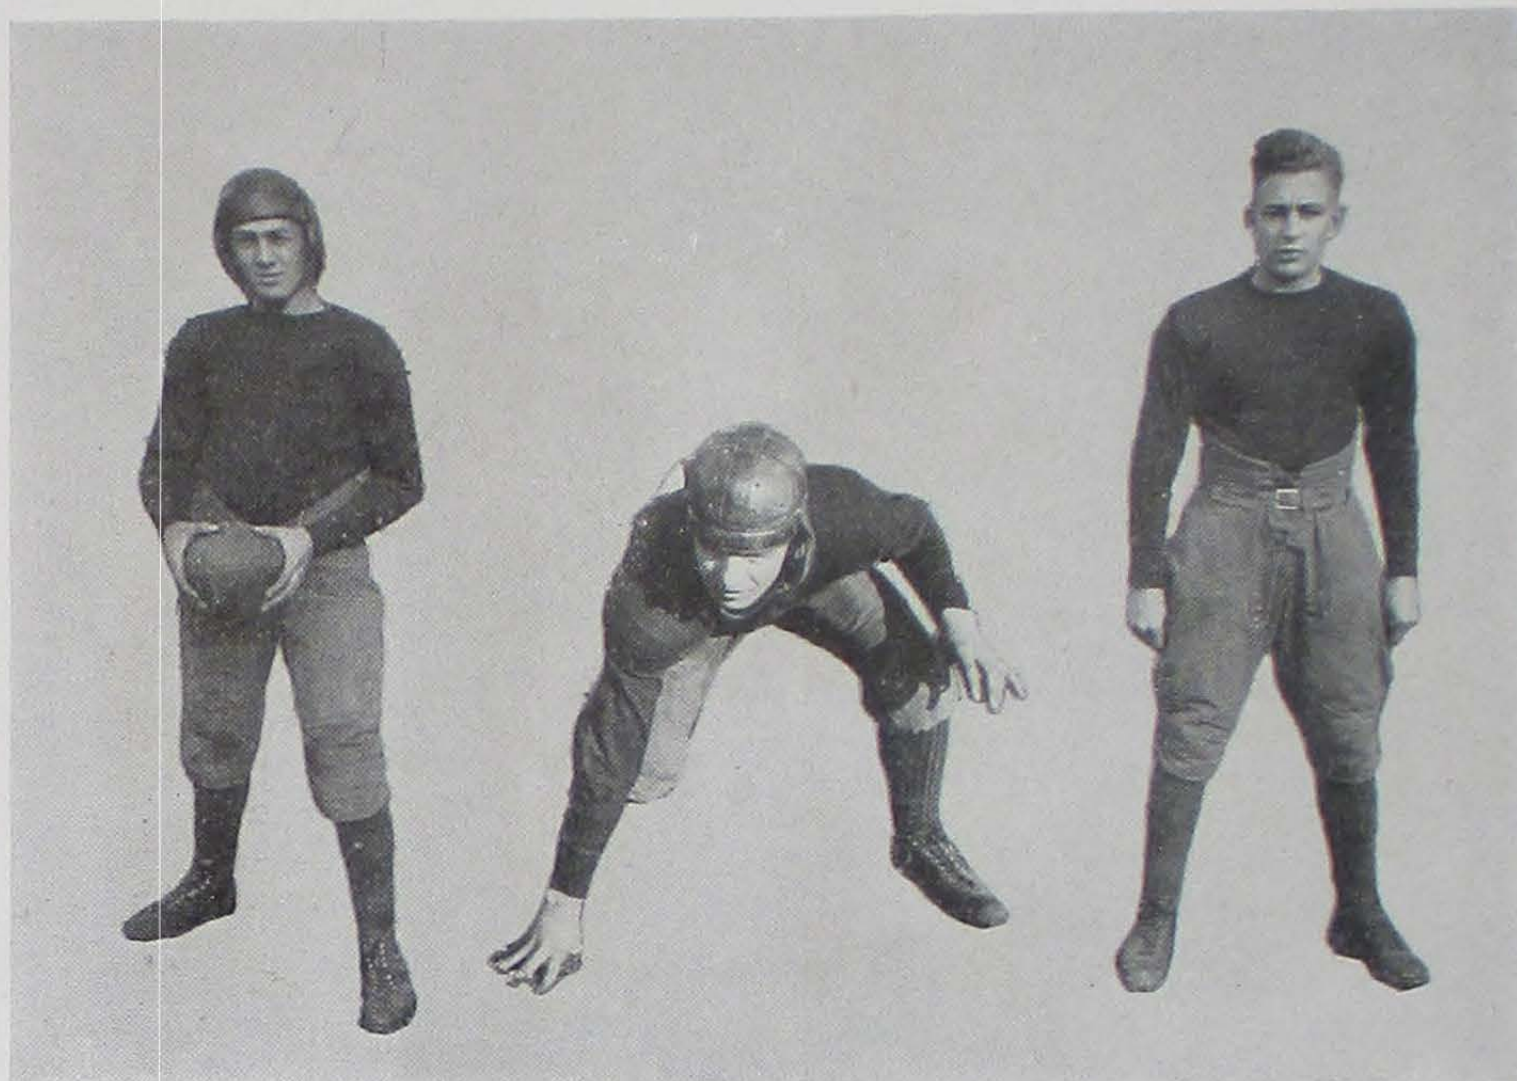

Mae was a fighter when he was in the game. He will be back for a big season next year.

Indianola's first score came as the result of a fumble on the kickoff. After several tries into the line, they dropkicked a goal. The Ames aerial game was thwarted by the condition of the ball. Indianola's final score came as the result of a blocked kick.

The condition of the field hampered both teams, but the lighter Cyclones were at the biggest disadvantage.

Roupe performed in stellar style in the backfield, while Hansen, Graves, Fish, and Holdredge played their usual good game.

THE SPIRIT

Martin, Oberg, Kooser.

ROGER MARTIN (Center)

Abe was a hard fighter, and gave all he had while in the game. He is a Junior, remaining for another year of football.

CLIFTON OBERG (GUARD)

"Click" was the first man from either of the Junior High Schools to win a letter. He has a great future before him.

DERRAL KOOSER (Half)

Kooser was a capable substitute for Allan, and showed that he has a real football future.

AMES 7, VALLEY JUNCTION 33

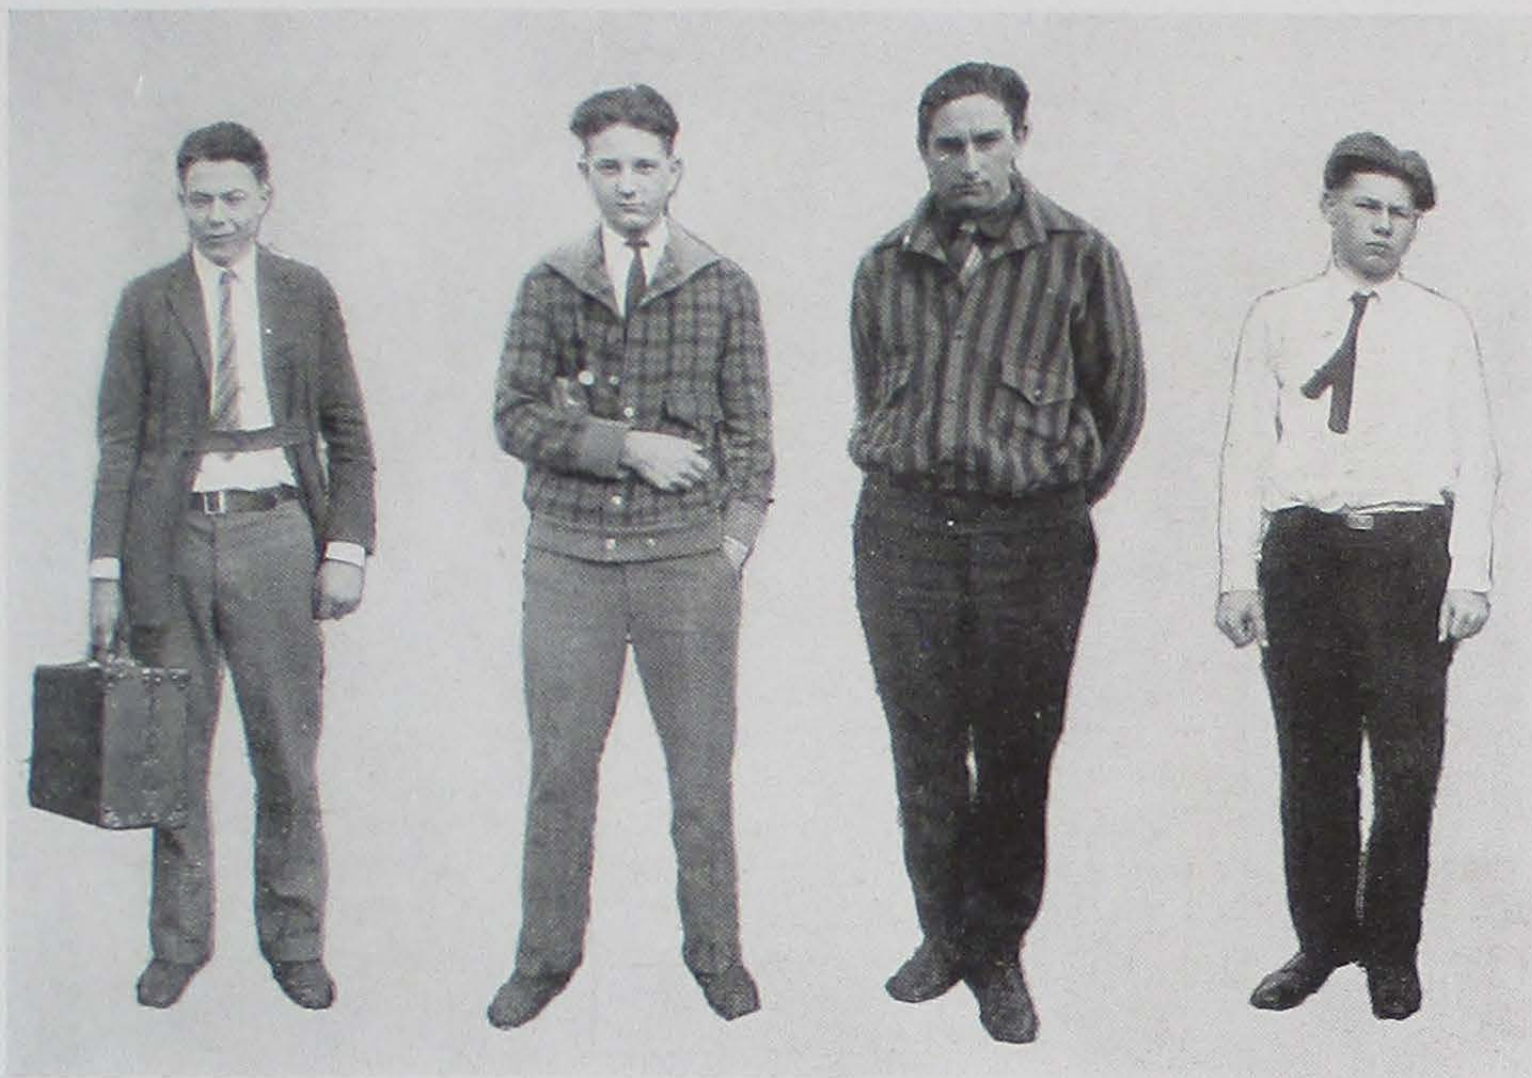

Every team has its bad day, and we had ours at Valley Junction. After a long pass had been dropped by an Ames man, the morale of the team seemed to weaken and Valley Junction scored at will during the first half.

In the second half, Coach Campbell bolstered up his weakening team with fresh men. In the fourth quarter, the team took a new lease on life and began to play football. Roupe scored a touchdown after a 77-yard run and the team outplayed Valley Junction the fourth quarter.

Roupe played the best game of the day with Holdredge and Anthony showing good form.

THE SPIRIT

Long, Hemstreet, Miller, Scott.

LEWIS LONG

"Lewy" assisted Don in the office, and also helped to keep the team in condition. On the trips he assisted "Coach" in getting the team ready for the field.

DONALD HEMSTREET

"Don's" work in the office is highly commendable. His service in keeping the team in condition was welcomed by the coaches.

JAY MILLER

The efficiency of the trainers is one of the reasons for the successful team this year.

Jay was always on the job and did his work in the best possible style.

KENNETH SCOTT

"Kenny's" work in the locker rooms enabled the team to get on the field in short time. His good work was very much appreciated by the members of the squad.

AMES 7, JEFFERSON 6

To celebrate the first Ames High School Homecoming, Jefferson felt the sting of defeat.

Jefferson scored on a blocked punt in the first half. This only made our team fight harder and in the second half Howell grabbed a pass and outran the entire Jefferson team for a score.

THE SPIRIT

From then on the game was all Ames. Jefferson's goal was threatened several times, but penalties kept us from another score.

Howell's playing featured.

AMES 6, IOWA FALLS 13

We were forced to bow to Iowa Falls in our last game of the season. Breaks in the game that favored our opponents gave them their chances to score.

In the first half, Iowa Falls secured a score after Ames had fumbled near their goal line. In the second period, Gale Allen snagged a pass and went over for our lone touchdown. Late in the fourth quarter our opponents again got a chance to score and took advantage of it.

Six seniors wore the Orange and Black for the last time and made a very creditable showing.

THE SECOND TEAM

It has been the policy of Mr. Campbell, throughout his Ames High School coaching career, to organize a second team. This is composed of men who are having their first try at football. It gives the boys a chance to display their ability, and also gives the coach a line on his new men.

By scheduling contests with outside schools they are given the experience of playing against foreign competition. The team had a very successful season this year, with the able assistance of Coach Harlan.

AMES 0, MARSHALLTOWN 6

In their first game of the season, the seconds lost to Marshalltown by the close score of 6-0.

Marshalltown secured their touchdown in the fourth quarter on a blocked punt. For the initial game of the season, the seconds made a good showing.

AMES 0, BOONE 0

After the Story City game, the seconds battled Boone to a scoreless tie. Altho outweighed, the locals put up a stiff argument.

On the defense "Lady" Doggett, and Huffman were impenetrable while Hagen was the offensive ground gainer.

AMES 0, BOONE 13

In their second game with Boone, the seconds did not fare so well. The boys seemed to lack the punch to score and were unable to hold the heavier Boone men.

Hagen as usual played a good game on the offense while Walatka let few gains get through him.

AMES 13, COLO 7

The seconds ended their season with a win over the Colo reserves.

McLaughlin's end runs and K. Ruggles' off tackle smashes were responsible for the scores. The punting of "Lady" Doggett was exceptionally good this game.

Top row: Young, Coach Harlan, Burnett, Larson, Welch.
Second row: Rullestad, Allen, Feroe, Coach Campbell, Kooser, Martin, Knight.
Third row: Stevens, Rail, Graves, Carr, Robins, Erickson, Clark.

BASKETBALL, '25-'26

Displaying splendid team work, the Little Cyclone basketball team went through a successful season. Teams that we had been unable to defeat for years were taken into camp.

The team this year started practice shortly after the Christmas holidays and soon after met Jordan. After the Valley Junction game, the students realized that they had a real team. The games that were lost were by very close margins, as will be noted.

In the tournament at Boone, Ogden was easily defeated, but Boone proved to be our Waterloo.

JORDAN 23, AMES 25

Ames opened a successful season with a victory over Jordan. The game was fast and the floorwork of both teams was exceptionally good.

Ames found the basket for 25 points while Jordan was only able to accumulate 23. Stevens, Graves, Martin, and Knight showed good form for the first game.

AMES 6, BOONE 16

Boone came over and spoiled our chances for a clean slate. They also found that we could play some basketball ourselves. Inaccurate shooting was a large part in the Ames defeat. The team was content with puncturing the ozone while Boone sank a large part of their shots.

AMES 38, VALLEY JUNCTION 17

We avenged our football defeat at Valley Junction with about the same one-sided score. The Valley team was unable to stop the Ames scoring machine and good guarding on the part of Martin and Allen kept them from our basket.

THE SPIRIT

Robins proved to be high point man and sank many long shots. Allen and Stevens also scored heavily for Ames.

AMES 22, MARSHALLTOWN 11

For the first time in five years, we were able to win over Marshalltown. Coming on the floor, the team completely outplayed their opponents. Gale Allen was easily the star of the first half by his guarding and basket shooting.

In the second half, Marshalltown started out to make up for their first period playing, but Martin's guarding spoiled any chances or hopes they had. Stevens and Robins scored numerous field goals and piled up a nice lead.

AMES 21, NEVADA 23

Playing on Nevada's home floor, the Ames team put up a strong battle.

Stevens started the scoring for Ames, but Nevada soon took the lead, and led at half time 11-7.

Ames came back strong and Gale Allen's long shots tied the opponents. From then on, the game was a lively affair. A few minutes before the whistle sounded, Nevada made the winning shot.

AMES 27, STORY CITY 16

Against Story City, the Little Cyclones won a decisive victory. Robins started the scoring for Ames and soon after the rest of the team piled up a lead that was not overcome. The score at half time was 12-7 in our favor.

In the second half both teams seemed to be dead on their feet, but Ames came out of it and the final score was 27-16.

Robins was high point man, followed by Stevens. Martin's guarding and Allen's floorwork were very good.

AMES 24, NEWTON 19

In one of the fastest games ever seen on the local floor, the home boys defeated Newton by the close score of 24-19.

Martin's long shot started the scoring for Ames and Robins got away for a number of long shots. Newton soon diminished our lead and the score at the half was 13 all.

Field goals by Allen, Clark, and Robins put us into a lead that, while not overcome, was very hotly contested. The game was a thriller throughout and kept the crowd on edge.

AMES 23, VALLEY JUNCTION 8

We again defeated Valley Junction—this time on our home floor. The game started slow and Valley Junction was the only one to score during the first quarter. In the second quarter Ames opened up a brilliant offense which netted them 13 points.

The second half was characterized by fast playing on the part of both teams. Stevens proved his value to the team by making three baskets in the last few minutes.

The team played well as a whole, with Allan and Stevens showing rare form.

AMES 21, STORY CITY 23

In the return game with Story City, we did not fare as well. Story City's gymnasium was a handicap to the team and out of 76 shots only 10 were good. The free throws were also generally missed.

AMES 10, NEWTON 31

Newton scored heavily on us to revenge their former defeat. The team was used to playing on a much smaller floor and consequently their floorwork was erratic. The basket shooting was also far from par.

Newton profiting from the last game, kept Allen and Robins closely guarded. However, Ames got away for 53 unguarded shots.

Robins and Stevens played the best game for Ames.

AMES 18, MARSHALLTOWN 29

We again met Marshalltown in a fast and furious game. The first half was hotly contested and ended in a tie.

Marshalltown gained a lead of eight points before "Shorty" Clark could get his eagle eye trained on the basket, and enabled us to catch our opponents.

The second half was a duplicate of the first until the fourth quarter when Marshalltown pulled away and led.

"Shorty" Clark for Ames and Hale for Marshalltown were the individual stars of the teams.

AMES 23, NEVADA 32

Nevada again defeated us, and this time on our home floor. Inability of our guards to break up the Nevada offense was largely responsible.

Ames was completely outplayed the first half, but managed to secure 14 points to Nevada's 20. In the second half, our opponents were unable to penetrate our defense so much at will and we soon tied the score. Nevada, however, pulled away and emerged victorious by a good margin.

Gale Allen played a brilliant game at guard. "Shorty" Clark was high point man with five field goals. Stevens played his usual good game at forward.

AMES 23, BOONE 19

After losing the last few games of the season, the team made a grand closing by defeating Boone on their floor for the first time in five years.

The excitement was intense during all four quarters, increasing when the game ended in a tie which resulted in two overtime periods. The score remained a tie at the end of the first period. In the second period "Mule" and "Shorty" each sank a basket, making the game ours by a four point margin.

THE SPIRIT

"A" LETTER WINNERS IN BASKETBALL

Gale Allen. "Little" Allen won his third and last letter in basketball. His guarding was far above the average and his basket shooting was one way Ames had of scoring.

Merle Robins, "Mule," our center, was the all-star basket shooter. He was able to get them in the basket by every known method and a few of his own. This is Merle's last year and we wish he could be with us again next year.

Donald Stevens "Steve Himself," won his first letter in basketball. His playing was better than any seen on the local floor in years. His reputation as a hard fighting forward is well known to his opponents.

William Martin, "Joe," made a fine guard for his first year. We cannot say enough about him, but if you want to know more—see some of his opponents.

Allen Clark, "Shorty," did not get a chance to play the first 3 games of the season, but when he did get his chance he proved his ability by being high point man in the last 5 games. As a forward, Shorty was always dependable and played his best in all the games.

SECOND TEAM

For their first game, the seconds went to Nevada. A little off form because of their inexperience, they lost a close game 8-10. They next met Marshalltown as a curtain raiser to the first team, and won 21-15. In due time, they clashed three times with North Grant, losing the first time and emerging victorious the other two. Gilbert was the next victim, falling before them twice, 19-11 and 34-7. Jordan came over and after a plucky battle went home with the small end of a 22-20 score. The local DeMolay team was next on the schedule and were trounced 16-15. They took revenge on Nevada in their second game and won.

In practically all the games Sherman was high point man. Anthony and Cole at the guard positions repeatedly broke the opposition's offense. Kelly and Daubert at center and McGriff and Hagen at the other forward job were also heavy scorers for the team.

CLASS BASKETBALL

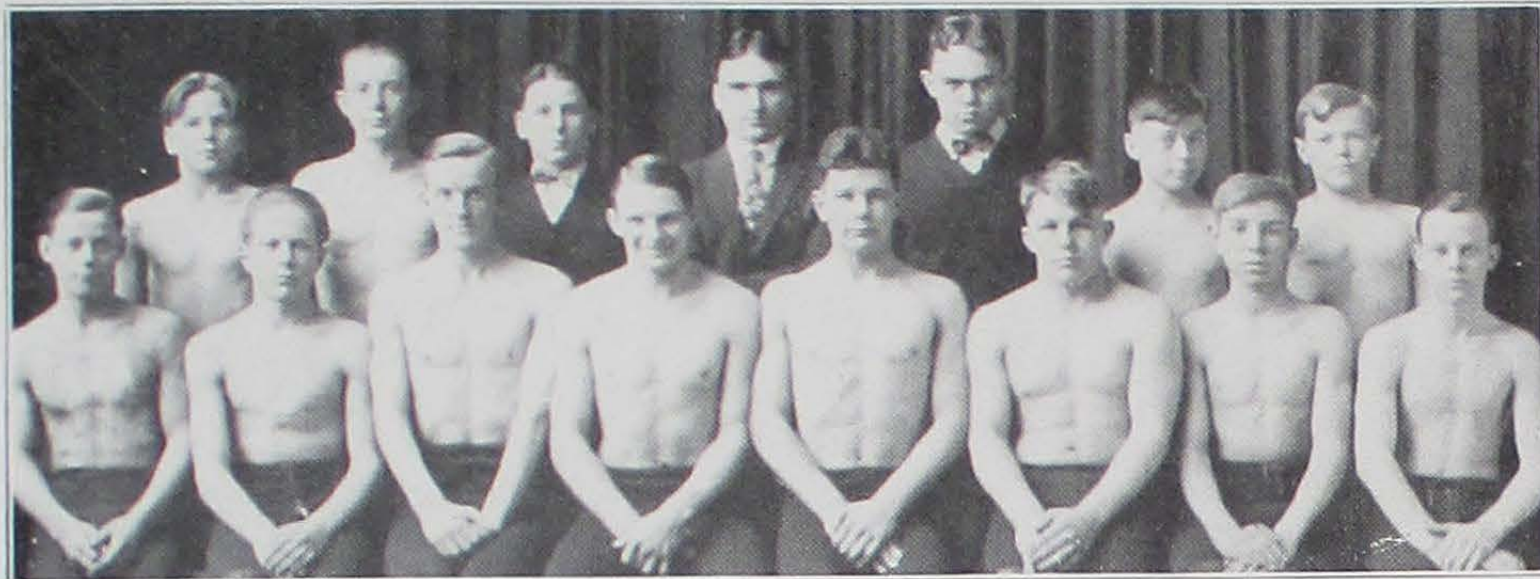

Every year the class teams have a chance to prove their supremacy on the court. This year the Seniors, by virtue of their winning over the Sophomores and Juniors, proved to be the champions.

The first game between the Sophomores and Seniors was a closely contested affair, ending 14-12. In their second game with the Juniors, they won 25-12.

The Sophomores and Juniors battled for second place and the Juniors succeeded in landing in the second berth.

THE SPIRIT

Top row: Counce, McElyea, Roup, Mr. Eiker, Hansen, Foster, E. Hiner.
Second row: Richard Cole, A. Hiner, Rynerson, Oberg, Fish, Ruggles, Murphy, Robert Cole.

WRESTLING, 1926

Altho only in its second year, wrestling has commanded much interest in the High School. Under the coaching of Mr. Eiker, the team learned a great deal about the wrestling game. The scores of the meets do not indicate the bouts won by the locals. It is a much better percentage than last year's record shows.

The High School this year boasts of a state wrestling champion on its squad, "Dick" Cole, the captain. Roupe, Hiner, Richardson, and Oberg also went far along in the state meet.

CLASS WRESTLING

For the first time in the history of Ames Hi a wrestling meet was held. The Juniors won by gathering 49 points to the Sophomores' 25 and the Seniors' 24.

AMES 12, MARSHALLTOWN 21

In the first meet of the year, the Little Cyclone grapplers met the experienced Marshalltown team. The men were very well matched except in the heavy-weight class.

Marshalltown made their points by falls in the 98-lb., 125-lb., and heavy-weight classes and by decisions in the 85-lb., 135-lb., and 145-lb. Ames' points came as result of falls in the 115-lb. and 158-lb., with decisions in the 105-lb.

Cole, Roupe, and Ruggles, the Ames veterans, put on some good bouts.

AMES 10, ELDORA 17

With only a day's rest, our team met the boys from Eldora.

Eldora, by getting decisions in the first three bouts, gained a lead which we were not able to overcome. Roupe started the scoring for Ames by a decision in his class. Ruggles and Hansen were able to get a fall and a decision, respectively.

Ruggles, Hansen, Roupe, and Cole were the stars on the Ames squad.

THE SPIRIT

AMES 1, CLARION 25

With three of our best men out of the running, Ames lost to Clarion by a one-sided score.

Clarion made a clean sweep of the matches except in the 95-lb. class, when Hiner of Ames was able to wrestle a draw.

The 125-lb. and 135-lb. classes lost by default. Rynerson and Richardson were unable to participate.

AMES 4, CLARION 23

In a return bout, we were again defeated by Clarion. The matches were more closely contested than in the previous meet. The team was still handicapped by the loss of Rynerson and Richardson.

Clarion garnered her points by decisions in the 95-lb., 125-lb., and 158-lb. classes, and falls in the 85-lb.

AMES 3, MARSHALLTOWN 24

In a meet featured with fast matches, the Little Cyclones again went down to defeat before Marshalltown.

Marshalltown took the first three bouts by a fall and decisions, respectively. They also scored in the 125-lb., 135-lb., and heavyweight classes.

Ames' points came as a result of three draw bouts.

AMES 10, ELDORA 14

We again lost to Eldora, but by a much closer score. After losing the first two bouts to Eldora, Ames started a real comeback and secured five decisions.

Cole, Roupe, Richardson, Oberg, and Ruggles succeeded in winning decisions over their men. Eldora scored in the 85-lb., 95-lb., and heavyweight classes.

AMES 25, JORDAN 10

We won our first wrestling match from Jordan by a safe margin. The Ames men had very little trouble with their opponents.

WRESTLING "A" WINNERS

Edwin Hiner, 95-lb. class. In his first try at wrestling, Hiner won his letter. He was able to go to the consolation round in the state meet. Hiner has two years left to wrestle.

Richard Cole, 105-lb. class. "Dick" is the first wrestler in Ames Hi to achieve the honor of being a state champion in his class. Dick has another year of competition.

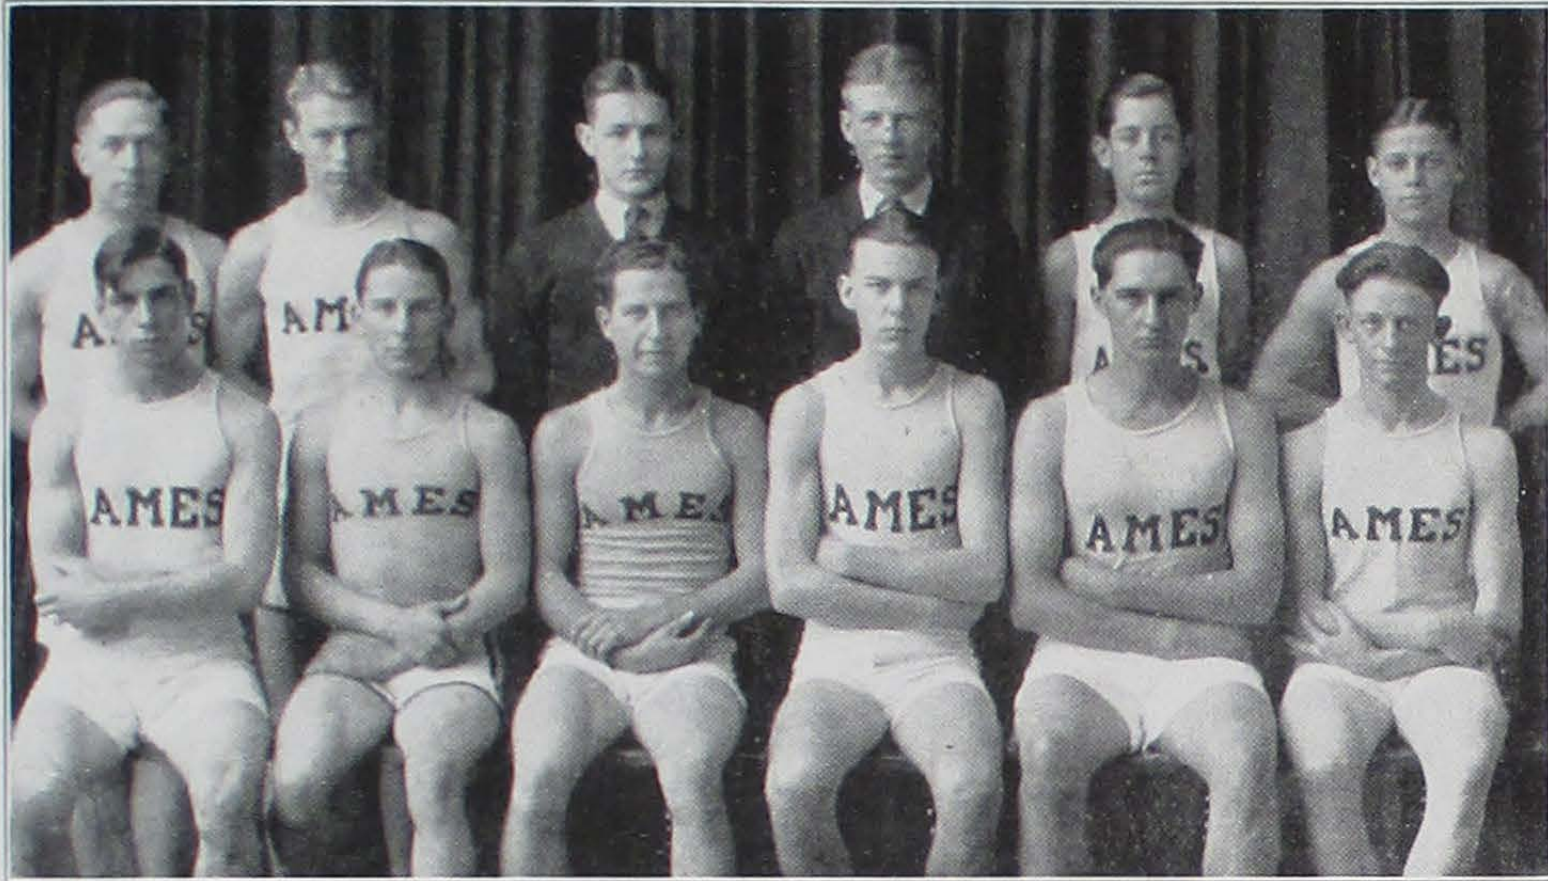

Lyle Roup, 115-lb. class. "Rope" was one of the strong men on the squad. He was able to win a large percentage of his bouts. This is "Rope's" last year.

Clifton Oberg, 145-lb. class. "Ox" Oberg won his first letter. He came out late in the season, but was soon able to win a permanent position. "Ox" has three years of competition left.

Arthur Ruggles, 158-lb. class. "Art" closed his Ames Hi wrestling career with a fine record. He was able to score in practically every meet and his loss will be felt by the team.

Robert Hansen, heavyweight. "Bob" had a difficult time at the first of the season handling his weight. With a little practice, however, he was able to hold his own. "Bob" has another year.

Otto Richardson, 125-lb. class. Altho out most of the season with injuries received on the way to Clarion, Otto won his second letter.

Top row: Schroeder, Rail, McGriff, Erickson, Thoreson, Cole.
Second row: Howell, Roup, Carberry, Queal, Cory, Carr.

TRACK, 1925

Track for 1925 was a decided improvement over former years. More keen interest was shown and a larger crowd of candidates was handled.

Outstanding men for Ames were Captain Carberry in the dashes, McFarland and Roupe in the middle distances and Cory in the shotput and discus.

With two lettermen, Earl Smith, an eastern hurdler, and a number of men with experience, Coach Campbell should be able to build up another strong team. Meets have been scheduled with the leading schools of the state.

TENNIS, 1925

The 1925 tennis team was one of the most successful teams ever representing Ames Hi.

Contests with Nevada, East High, North High and with four other schools were played at Newton. The team emerged victorious at every meet.

The doubles teams composed of Allen, Graves, and Clark and Merle Robins were able to capture almost every match.

The prospects for this year are very bright as only one of the men, Ivan Evernden, graduated. Another strong team is expected to duplicate last year's performance.

MIDVALE H. S. WINS OVER LOCALS

Flashy Forward Cages Forty Field Goals

Midvale High School decisively defeated the Ames High quintette last night on the home floor, 27 to 8. The Midvale style of play was seriously hampered by the low ceiling, small floor, and Helen Ruggles. The two Catt brothers, Civit and Pole, were the stars of the game, the latter scoring forty field goals for his team.

The work of Shipman, husky center, featured for Ames. Q. Carey substituted for Welch in the closing hours of the contest, and began to tear up the floor, but was stopped before much damage was incurred.

The absence of "Woof-Woof" Robins in the local line-up was keenly felt. Robins forgot to wear his rubbers during the past week and developed a slight attack of pneumonia, rheumatism, and chilblains.

Joe Martin, our emergency dead-shot, might have entered the game, but during an exciting moment of the first half, he fell from the bench and dislocated his aesophogus.

Dark Knight and Gas-house Erickson played well while in the game, but both were removed because of continued requests by the spectators. Pee-Wee Baldwin and Czech Judisch capably filled their shoes. Draper's game was way off, owing to the fact that the rav-ing beauty, Karyl Parno, was in the audience. Puffing Billy Welsh played a WHALE of a game at guard.

DOGGETT WINS POPULARITY CONTEST

Edwin Everett Doggett, '35, better known as Dutch, won the annual high school popularity contest, it was announced by the Yelpling 52. Out of 289 votes cast, Doggett received 285.

Highpockets Hanson, Gas-house Erickson, Woof-Woof Robins, and Quixote Stevens each received one. It is thought that these four voted for themselves. The above mentioned will have to draw for second prize.

Dutch's popularity is certainly deserved, for he is a very studious pupil, a versatile athlete, a musician of no mean ability, a debater, no doubt the best dancer in school, and assistant janitor.

First prize consists of $500 cash, and second prize consists of $100 in Russian kopeks.

Simultaneously with the announcement of his success, Doggett declared that he would donate his share to the St. Cloud (Minnesota) City Jail.

Weighty problems are now confronting the nation. There are momentous issues at stake, and it is up to the public to settle these complex and significant questions.

DEBATERS WIN AGAIN; COUNTY CHAMPIONS!

Handily Defeat Ontario in Verbal Brawl

The Ames High debating trio, arguing on the affirmative side, gained the referee's decision over Ontario High Tuesday night. The question was: "Resolved: That the United States Government should undertake to feed all the squirrels within its borders."

At the termination of eight hours and sixty-three minutes of debating, Coach McCluskey of Ontario tossed a towel into the ring, forfeiting the match. The referee stepped forth and raised Mouse Knous' hand, declaring Ames the winner, and pointing out that two members of the negative team were unconscious, while to all outward appearances the local boys were hale and hearty.

Departing from the usual custom of debate, the speakers were allowed the amount of time they deemed necessary to present their arguments. The decision came when Knous was in the midst of the last rebuttal speech. Fordson Ruggles, Reggie Stevenson, and Mouse Knous represented us. This victory gives our boys a clear title to first place in the county.

Twice during the evening, Ruggles became so heated in his delivery that the fire department found it necessary to play a stream of water on the roof to keep it from bursting into flames. Eggie Stevenson threw the audience into hysterics with his marvelous ridicule of the opposition's plans. Mouse Knous delivered a constructive speech which, without a doubt closely rivals Will Rogers' oration in Congress regarding restriction of importation of cerise elephants.

PRACTICAL JOKERS VICTIMS OF OWN JOKE!

Lare and Eiker Foiled by Dad Fisher

One of the sleuths of the Gazette has unearthed the result of an attempted practical joke, which occurred about two weeks ago. It seems that one noon hour Mr. Lare and Mr. Eiker drew the features of a donkey on the back of Dad Fisher's coat, which he had left behind him. In due time Dad returned from lunch and presently hove into sight wearing the chalk-decorated coat.

"How is everything, Mr. Fisher?" asked Mr. Lare, trying vainly to appear innocent.

"Nothing much," replied Dad, eyeing the suspects furtively, "only I would like to know which one of you wiped your face on my coat."

Both Mr. Lare and Mr. Eiker have approached our representative with bribe-money, but fortunately that individual was able to withstand their pleadings.

COACH CAMPBELL RECOVERING RAPIDLY

Shock Received at Game Not Serious

Though he did not regain consciousness until early this morning, Coach Gaylord Campbell will be discharged from the local hospital, where he was being retained due to shock acquired at last night's game.

When Erickson caged a shot early in the first period, Coach Campbell collapsed and was rushed to the Mary

MIDVALE H. S. ROMPS TO EASY VICTORY OVER LOCALS

Erickson provided a feature of the game, when in the opening moments he sank a long shot and fainted. It was the first basket made by Gas-house in competition of practice since Jesse James became an umpire. Coach Campbell collapsed and was taken to the Mary Greeley hospital, but that is another story.

Ames plays the Elkhart Reserves next Friday night. This game should be close, as Elkhart has not won any games this season.

Bimbo Rynerson, diminutive scoring ace, will be eligible for this engagement. Bimbo has been failing in three subjects, although the remainder of the squad, and Snake-Eye Allen are maintaining the high standard scholastically. The line-up:

Ames	Midvale
Erickson	F.(C) P. Catt
KKnight	F. C. Catt
Baldwin	F. Houndorg
Judisch	F.
Shipman (C.)	C. Zebrasky
Gladwin	C. Aldendifor
Draper	G. X. Ptazek
Walsh	G. Yale
Carey	G. Locke

Greeley hospital by Mr. Lare. At first diagnosis, the doctors declared that he might be permanently affected.

Erickson himself fainted, but was revived by the trainers and continued to engage in the fray.

Not "How Much Can I Get?"

When Mr. Penney laid the foundation for this Notion-wide Institution back in 1902, on receiving new goods he did not ask himself, "How much can I sell this for?"

He was not actuated by any such mercenary rule.

He asked himself, "How little can I sell this for and make my legitimate profit?"

He believed in the Golden Rule—as he practiced it!

Through all the intervening years, this same rule has maintained in the constantly increasing number of Stores of the Company.

It maintains in this store.

W. Rynerson: "Aw, make it 100 and enjoy yourself."

Charles Barr: "Have you seen the Catskill mountains?"

Don Fish: "No; but I've seen them kill rats."

Lloyd K.: "Well, dear, I must be off."

Ruth M.: "That's what I thought when I first met you."

Whoever named a certain type of American youth "Sheiks," certainly played a low trick on the Arabs.

Miss Seaman: "Tell what you know about the Mongolian race."

Bob Schmidt: "I wasn't there. I went to the ball game."

Four friends went to a circus—a goose, a cow, a frog, and a polecat. They all got in except one. The goose had a bill, the cow had four quarters, and the frog had a green-back, but the polecat only had a scent, and that was a bad one.

Babe: "Do you know that 17,382 elephants were needed last year to make billiard balls?"

Edna: "Oh, isn't it wonderful that those big beasts can be taught to do such acting work?"

There was a youth who loved a maid,
His name was Alexander;
He wanted her to marry him,
A ring did Alex hand her.

So later they were truly wed.
And when folks the paper read,
Referring to the twain they said,
Why, there goes Alex and her.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

By Noah Count

Is it all right for me to receive and answer signals manipulated by a young man, which means "Will you come out?"

Winifred Miller.

I cannot answer with credit to myself unless I know the answers to the said signals.

What is the matter with my pigs? They walk around all right one day and the next day they wander off, lay down, and never get up again.

Sam Cory.

They're dead.

Why do we affix the titles "Prof." and "Mr." to the names of the male members of the faculty?

Bill Knous.

That is an epithet of distinction and should be used sparingly. As to how they shall be used we can draw no hard and fast lines, but would advise you to say "Prof." to the black-haired ones, "Mr." to the light-haired ones as well as those of doubtful color. The title "Dr." should be conferred on those with no hair. In so doing you will generally be correct and will rise 37½% in their estimation.

Could you inform me of the whereabouts of a school offering a geological course with special reference to rock strata?

Andrew Jackson Graves.

Certainly. The U. S. Government maintains several of these schools. The one nearest Ames is at Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. The usual course is twenty years, though some have been known to spend a life-time there gaining knowledge. If one can obtain influence through a senator or governor he may matriculate in a short time, however.

YOU know the one about the doughboy who stood up in the front line trench and yelled "come on Heinie, let's see what you got!" Just then a big shell went right over his head. He ducked down and murmured—all admiration—"that's what I call service!"

We want you men who come here to feel that Service is our middle name, and when it comes to service we stop short only at miracles. Yes sir, we turn handsprings to see that you get what you want, when you want it ana at the price you should pay for it.

We'd rather be known for our service than for our wealth, good looks, or anything else.

P. S.—It's a pleasure to give fine service when you have such fine things to offer as Society Brand Clothes. We have a wonderful assortment. You ought to look them over.

Dorothy Pasley: "What is the name of the printer?"

Mr. Wettach: "What's a steam turbine?"

Russell Kintzley: "It's what an Arab wears when he has a cold in his head."

GIRLS—DON'T READ THIS!

If there's anything that worries a woman
It's something she ought not to know,
But you bet she will find out somehow
If she gets the least kind of a show.
Now we'll wager four bits to a penny
This poem she has already read,
We knew she would get at it somehow
If she had to stand on her head.

"Well," asked St. Peter of the new arrival, "what are your credentials?"

"I, sir," said the candidate for admission, "am the honest business manager of the Spirit."

"Come rihht in," replied St. Peter. "We've had a converted horse trader here for twenty years and he is getting quite chesty."

And that, dear reader, is how Chuck Nelson got past the pearly gates of Paradise.
